

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE TRUTH MOVEMENT

BY GORDON J EAST

Gordon East Publishing, 2012. There is no copyright for this material. If there are any errors in this book (whether it's a typo, wrong dates or I've said something incorrectly about certain people or events,) please click on "contact me" @ this website:

<http://criticalmedia.yolasite.com>

There is no intention on my part to say something that is untrue. This is purely a critique book with the idea of trying to improve things in the alternative media.

There are a lot of Australian topics in this book, and I use footnotes here and there to explain terms to my international audience.

(i) This book is about the alternative media (or truth movement.) But what is the alternative media? One thing that's obvious is that it's not mainstream. One could say it's the equivalent of alternative medicine such as Chinese herbs or acupuncture. Yes, it's "alternative" because it's not covered by prescription in Australia like with the modern tablets which are a 2-edged sword — both helpful and harmful. Even though attitudes are changing towards the well-being of Australians. I guess the "big boys" don't want us to be healthy! Just like an the Australian physician, John Holt, a doctor who can cure cancer that Ray Martin¹ interviewed.² The alternative media covers everything from Adolf Hitler to Zeitgeist, alternative views on 9/11, corporate media, CIA, government coverups, race, multiculturalism etc. So in other words, anything opposite what is presented on the ABC, CNN, Fox News or Channel 9.³ There maybe a few few incidence or characters in this book that, if you weren't so aware of the alternative media, it would be pretty hard to know what I am talking about. But don't worry about people I talk about, but the incidences that are involved and what they did wrong or right. This book is for those who are familiar with this kind of media. This book analyzes the absurdities and divisions which divide the "truth movement." The fallouts in relationships, people who have quite absurdly said that "Arabs control Hollywood," and those who have been shunned just because we might see something differently from them even if we agree with most of what these divided souls might think or say. Do you feel shunned like me? If you do, you might find this book interesting which may make you stop and think and call for a “reform” (if you will) of this movement. To make it more fair. To not marginalize those who don’t or may not agree. We all know the mainstream media to be a joke, petty, stretch the truth, controlled by globalists, infiltrated by CIA, etc, but is the alternative media a caricature of itself? Are we who despise the influence of mass media are just as guilty with how we treat ourselves? When you read this book, you’ll realize why I don’t totally feel apart of it.

¹ A well-known Australian journalist.

² <http://www.cam.net.uk/home/aaa315/healing/john-holt-cancer-treatment.htm>

³ ie - 9 Network in Australia tv.

(ii) I hope that upon reading this book, things will change and we’ll be able to talk more freely about what we like. Rather than be like what Protestants criticize of the Catholic Church where it is too authoritarian, or like pseudo-Christians who think the Trinity doctrine was setup by Constantine in an authoritarian fashion without caring about the outcome — it’s all about perspective and where we come from that shapes our world view. Regardless of faith and lack of faith. I’ve said this before and I’ll say it again, there is enough room in the alternative media (as there should be) for all kinds of people, because we can’t think alike on everything and diversity of opinions should be encouraged. So why do we try to get people to see eye to eye and consequently get divided and destroy relationships with each other in this movement — let’s be clear, the movement I feel sympathy for, but don’t feel totally apart of and feel kind of estranged from.

PS: All quotations from the Bible are taken from the NIV 1984 translation unless otherwise stated.

CONTENTS

PRECAUTIONS	5
HOW IT ALL STARTED?	7
HOW DID I BECOME AWARE OF THE ALTERNATIVE MEDIA?	7
DAVID LIVINGSTONE'S ATTACK ON CHRISTIANITY AND WESTERN CIVILIZATION	12
DONATIONS	21
ISRAEL AND PALESTINE	22
WHITE ANGLO-SAXON PROTESTANT	26
OWNING UP TO PLAGIARISM	29
SO WHAT WILL PEOPLE TALK ABOUT?	38
CHRIS CONSTANTINE	40
TED PIKE	43
INTERNET CENSORSHIP	45
THE KING JAMES VERSION	47
NON-AMERICAN TRUTHERS?	50
FEMINISM — A DEVIL OF ITS OWN!	52
EMPLOYMENT AND FORCIBLE UNEMPLOYMENT	54
IS A DISASTER YET TO HAPPEN AND CONSEQUENTLY FALL UPON US? (Does the truth movement bring hatred towards the West?)	61
CONCLUSION	65
RECOMMENDED READING/WEBSITES	67

PRECAUTIONS

NOTE: Please be aware that when reading this book, it may contain people, places and events that maybe unknowable to people who reside outside Australia, and as previously said, it's written for a international audience. Please be aware, that (I almost guarantee) there will be some people you've never heard, and I didn't want to digress and discuss people who I am more familiar with. I just wanted enough information to highlight what's wrong, etc. I speak straight from the heart and I am very honest with how I feel about things. There's never been an era like this! So, striking differences in society sparks all kinds of opinions or persuasion. So as a word of warning, so you understand clear, I am writing primarily from a white/European perspective. It is definitely not a political correct book, and bare in mind, 95% of the people in this book I criticize are whites! People will quickly sigh over this, but with my experience in life, there will always be those who like the English proverb "good things come to those who wait." And those from non-European backgrounds who respect and understand the diversity of the human race, and with that natural feeling of our people understanding "them" and vice versa. I want to live in peace and harmony with everyone and just as Palestinians or Tibetans want a homeland for themselves, so I desire for the white people. So, with that said, please note: I am not against Jews, blacks, Asians or any race. Whoever denies this right really doesn't believe in equality and human rights — only human rights for whatever race they are! As what David Duke rightfully says about his site "expose hypocrites who deny human rights in the name of human rights!"⁴

And whilst I am not against any race, I am not against the people who are in this type of media who I mention in this book. I think the following sentiments should make it obvious, and I credit these people when I think they did the right thing in the book...

If it wasn't for Texe Marrs, I wouldn't have known so much about secret societies, Jews and the exact people who were behind 9/11.*

If it wasn't for Henry Makow, I wouldn't have realized there is a vast gulf that separates Illuminati Jews in the New World Order and everyday Jews who are patriotic and want to get on with life.*

If it wasn't for Ted Pike, I wouldn't have realized how dangerous the ADL's hate crime laws are.*

⁴ <http://www.youtube.com/user/drdduke>

If it wasn't for Alex Jones, I probably wouldn't have been aware of half the guests that have appeared on his show and I would have missed out on some cool documentaries. He is also the big "heavy weight prize fighter" for the truth movement who draws so much attention! He was a good place to start off for the alt. media.*

If it wasn't for Brother Nathaniel, I wouldn't have realized that a "former Jew" would love to be on my side and stick up for my race, Christianity and western civilization in general and tell me the truth about what Russia and Vladimir Putin is REALLY about!*

If it wasn't for David Duke, I wouldn't have realized how much the white race is in peril!*

I could have so many more "if it wasn't for's..." but you get the picture.

...Ok, so let's not just blame the Jews outrightly. I have researched other Illuminati bloodlines and as far as I know the Rockefeller's (for example) are not Jewish but look at how devilish they are.⁵ There was a House of Rothschild film that was released in 1934, but maybe there should also be a "House of Rockefeller" as well, with their insistency on feminism which had destroyed the family and their partnership with the Rothschilds. Barack Obama is a Princehall freemason, (black Freemasonry fraternity.) He wanted change but yet nothing has changed for the American people, in fact it's worse. According to the press, on 2UE it was noted that in fact another Marxist socialist "leader of the nation," the much loathed Julia Gillard gets along well with Barack Obama⁶ because they both share the same year of birth and are only a month out on birthdays. But they are good friends because they are both staunch communists and have both greatly brought down two great nations (once great) Australia and the United States. They are both foreigners and Barack got away with it despite lying about his birth certificate. In Australia, one can be born overseas and can run for the office of Prime Minister. George Bush was severely criticized when he was in office and rightly so. But put in a president that has African ancestry and if it's not going to plan and he doesn't make the change that he said he promised to, just blame it on congress! Unfortunately race plays a huge part in how people are viewed. Such an unfortunate reality. and now there is a possible war with Iran! And the Catholic Church which has close ties with Judaism, but is apart of the world system along with the City of London. Most of the people I've mention are quite prominent in the alternative media. I certain didn't want to offend anyone of them in this book. I just wanted to highlight the frailties of the truth movement. And that it's ok to talk about all issues that concern us.

⁵ But I do believe in freedom of speech on any topic within reason!

⁶ ...whom I believe is involved in a secret society like Barack and that's why they get on so well.

HOW IT ALL STARTED?

As type up the first lines of this book, I feel a bit like the Apostle Paul who felt endanger of his own race.⁷ Not from physical harm, but fear that I will be taken the wrong way, fear that I will be labelled “a Zionist,” and fear that I will not be heard and somehow I am a shill trying to infiltrate the truth movement and trying to destroy it. Nothing could be further from the truth and this book is all about criticizing the movement to make it stronger, to allow other voices to express their concerns of a diverse nature. Virtually all the people in this book I have respect for, have spent many years and have been at it longer than I in the alternative community. There are so many things I have been grateful for and so many things I have been awoken to, because of these people I mention in the book. If anyone accuses me of causing division and wanting to make people look bad or whatever, please alert them to this section. All I wish was for things to be more fair in the alternative media! That's all I wish! In this book you'll see me criticize someone and then credit them! But I can't help it if there is too much criticism because there are a lot of things that need to be cleaned up — sad but true! But the whole concept of a more free type of media, without appealing to lobbyist groups is fantastic! Just the raw facts is what we are all after... And so I thank the people who let me know about news items we don't hear about and are hard to find, thanks to lobbyists, etc. But now I am more aware of things like the Illuminati but with a sore head from all the divisions!

HOW DID I BECOME AWARE OF THE ALTERNATIVE MEDIA?

— How did I find out about the “truth movement?”

I was like most people dumb as a dodo, a stupid “goyim” as what Judaic Jews would think of me oblivious about world events around me, not completely because I always knew about the domination of Jews of Hollywood and the world, but I didn't think it was the whole world; only the western world. Even the Iranian president

⁷ 2 Corinthians 11:26

Mahmoud Ahmadinejad is Jewish or “has Jewish roots,”⁸ alongside Mustafa Ataturk.⁹ So, in 2008, I decided to do a college course¹⁰ at Ultimo, Sydney which is practically next door to Sydney University which is known for producing a lot of medical practitioners who love to boast of going to this institution despite teachings horrible things like Satanism.¹¹ The end of the year was approaching. I was cynical that the course I did would mean anything and translate into a job. I was quite angry about where my life headed. But rewind a week before that, it was on a Friday when (ironically) a some students were handing out leaflets and DVD’s on the truth about 9/11! I said no it’s all rubbish and didn’t take it. The next Friday came I changed my mind and my anger at the world made me think “who cares.” The DVD that was handed to me on the street was 9/11 Loose Change. I still have that copy which is sentimental value to me as the “introduction to the truth movement.” I was in shock and horror at George Bush’s incompetence, and lack of interest when he was in one of the classrooms with the schoolchildren. How obvious it was, the bombs on the mezzanine floor going off! (as what one witness reported.) There was no excuse on George’s part. The missing footage at the Pentagon, the whole thing spelled of an inside job. At that time I did not know it was written by Jason Bermas — Alex Jones’s sidekick who will not let anyone say it was the Jews (like Silverstein) who did 9/11, or commit any acts of terror in the world. Apparently anyone who dares says such things is a “Nazi” & “Anti-semite.” And that they should hang themselves, or electrocute themselves, commit suicide, and stop breathing!”¹² This was refuted on Texe Marr’s show and... good on him (it is up his alley and so he should.) So Alex Jones was obviously the first man (besides Brian Wilshire at 2GB) who was in the truth movement who revealed the truth about the New World Order (an erroneous

⁸ <http://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/worldnews/middleeast/iran/6256173/Mahmoud-Ahmadinejad-revealed-to-have-Jewish-past.html> “Mahmoud Ahmadinejad Revealed to have Jewish Past.”
<http://www.guardian.co.uk/commentisfree/2009/oct/05/mahmoud-ahmadinejad-jewish-family>
<http://www.wnd.com/?pageId=112001> “Mahmoud Ahmadinejad Jewish Family.”

⁹ <http://radioislam.org/ataturk/jewish.htm>
<http://secretjews.wordpress.com/2008/01/04/mustafa-kemal-recited-shema/>
<http://www.atajew.com/2000/04/exposed-mustafa-kemal-ataturk-was.html>
Wikipedia “According to Encyclopaedia Judaica, one assertion that was commonly made by many Jews of Salonika was that Kemal Atatürk was of Doenmeh origin.”

¹⁰ TAFE — government college institution “Technical and Further Education.”

¹¹ Unfortunately, I could not find any articles on this subject @ Sydney Uni website. But I did receive a catalogue (circa 1999) which revealed this shocking truth along with the whole litany of other courses they provide. I have no reason to lie. Sure as Gehenna it is true if the Vatican teaches it! The Catholic Church was the very institution that gave us university. <http://www.smh.com.au/articles/2005/01/10/1105206052129.html> “Vatican Offers Course in Satanism.”

¹² <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-y3DkO1VX4g> “InfoWarrior’ Jason Bermas: Jew Critics are ‘Anti-Semites’ Who Should Hang Or Electrocute Themselves.”

term of this evil)¹³ Brian alerted me from a very young age never to trust the Liberal or Labor party¹⁴ because they are both the same and tells his callers to vote for the independents. He ought to be credited for writing books like the Fine Print and One Man Banned, and even *Monday School*¹⁵ but due to the lack of individual freedoms in Australia, certain names had to be blacked out of those responsible in Australia. America (as at the date of this book) still has more liberty to talk about controversial issues; even the holocaust. Many Australians are aware of a famous talkback host (and former TV host) named Derryn Hinch has repeated been put in jail just for naming pedophiles! But Brian, being in the know, who often talked about the NWO, didn't (and couldn't) tell me everything, because he was on a mainstream radio station. He didn't tell me about the Jews (Of course I know he couldn't otherwise he would have been fired...) or about the Federal Reserve being a private bank, he didn't tell me about Freemasonry, etc. But he got my thinking faculties going. The greatest boost or leap to my realization about what's really going on in the world, was in 2008 when I watched a magnificent documentary called Loose Change. I was at the edge of my chair and never saw anything like it. A huge example of telling events as they actually happened! A couple of years later, I would realize how narrow things are in the mainstream world, how many stories they miss and don't tell the public. Brian was always surprised how many stories got ignored, and always "wondered if the main press new about it," such as the spying facility Echelon. He made it acutely aware with his listeners of how they finally admitted to this phenomenon after so many years or decades even!

So fast forwarding again... I got tired of Alex Jones hijacking the truth movement as if it was his own, and calling people "Nazi's" — those who say the Jews did heinous crimes like saying 9/11 was an inside job by Jews. The man knows how to rant on his show. For many minutes. To his credit, he does criticize Muslims even though he is like a nervous skater still trying to see any good they go. Later I found out about Texe Marris and Henry Makow who was appeared on his show various times.

Texe Marris was a breath of fresh air for me, despite him being a big "King James only." person. His over-the-top titles for his books got to me at first, (which I now get because of the occult nature of the people and organizations he talks about) but I gave him a chance anyway. But recently (Nov 2011) he talked about one of his books New Ages Cults and Religion and admitted it doesn't cover Islam and Judaism

¹³ I say this to speak the "common language." But the actual literal Latin is "New Order of the Ages." I guess blame George Bush senior who was one of the first people to popularize this term.

¹⁴ A Conservative and left wing party respectively in Australia

¹⁵ Through his criticism of the Bible, it made be learn and explain the Bible to people more.

(which obviously was much more of a surprise — barely a week goes by which he doesn't talk about the Jews (not to say he is anti semitic by the way! God forbid!) To his defense, he has released audios on Islam but only talks about Islam from a “pagan” angle. (Kinda reminds me of the firebrand Englishman of Greek abstraction, Chris Constantine on Youtube who loves to paint everything as pagan. He was charged in 2009 for DVD piracy.¹⁶) But Texe became disappointing — but how, you may ask? He is very colorful, interesting and honest, and loves to call his listeners “friends” and has a large collection of documentation on freemasonry ranging from Jews, Illuminati, cults, and other books, etc. Because he mainly focuses on the Jews — the main enemies he sees are the Jews and (perhaps Catholics) and won't admit to the violence against Christians and Jews in the Koran. Certain things he has said on his radio program have given me the impression he is scared of talking about Muslims. But why? Isn't he putting his life endanger by talking about “the Jews?”

One might object to the use of many website quotes or even Youtube quotes. But we are in the digital age now. The Internet has become an integral part of our daily lives with many shared ideas, expressions, ideas, business and the banking that we do online, and online commerce. The Internet is really a public place with a mixture of personal, professional and other websites ranging from banks, universities, blogs, chats, gaming and other forms of entertainment.

Within saying all this, it has lead me to put a table of what people will talk about. I thought I would highlight the obvious dilemmas and limitations of what the leaders of this media (and other types) will or won't talk about.

“JEW ONLY PEOPLE”	“MUSLIM ONLY PEOPLE”
• Henry Makow	• JesusorMuhammed (Youtube channel)
• Texe Marrs*	• Ellis Skolfield
• Brother Nathanael	• Serge Trifkovic
• David Duke	• Robert Spencer
• Michael Collins Piper	• English Defense League (EDL)

¹⁶ http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/uk_news/england/beds/bucks/herts/7194961.stm “Suspended Sentence for DVD Pirate.” Please note: this is not to make Chris look bad and it may not be true, but simply just to make the point it is not good to label people constantly as “pagan” regardless of belief and to “breath fire down people’s necks” to those who simply disagree. See page 40 for more information.

“JEW ONLY PEOPLE”	“MUSLIM ONLY PEOPLE”
• Ted Pike^^	• World Net Daily
• Fritz Springmeier ¹⁴	• Walter Veith. ^{° 19}
• Alex Jones^	• Jay Smith (Pfanderfilms Youtube channel)

*Does have publications critical of Islam and occasionally criticized it, or at least brushed over the issue.

^Is aware of high Muslim population areas like Dearborn, Michigan. I personally have heard him a few times speak out on what happens there and what that religion is responsible for.

^^Has spoken out sometimes against Islam, but not obvious.

°A Seventh Day Adventist, who strangely enough says that the Catholic Church started off Islam. But he is to be credited with his diverse look at exposing world religions.

Why is the movement full of people who either criticize the Jews for world domination or Muslims only? Send an email to any of these people (I have not tried all of them) and you will bet your bottom dollar, that you will be ignored or shunned. Donations to these people or organizations (like Brother Nathanael Foundation) won't help you to become more popular even if they say that they like receiving your emails. Talk about anything that's on their menu and dare go against the trend for want of more diverse topics, and you will get nowhere. It's not that I disagree with these people, it's more that they will rarely talk about the “opposing sides” argument. A lot of things in life are not necessarily black or white but gray. Jeff Rense was demonized by Mark Glenn when he dared to put articles critical of Islam in late 2010. Even ridiculing him for threatening to get the FBI onto him. Of course it was silly that Jeff said that (if he did indeed say it) because that very organization would obviously be on his watch list. But as you continue to read and discover, if you are in this type of media, you can make people dance to your own tune. As I have heard Texe say he gets some of his information from the big villain organization itself: the CIA! Hey! It's ok because one of their media leaders can call on them like Ghost Busters or the A Team. Texe was quite passive when he said about how not everyone who works at the CIA (an organization he despises) is bad. But in another breath, Texe will say it's God Almighty who gives him the information and he is a born conspiracy theorists (or scientist as he now prefers.) But back to Jeff and and posting negative articles on Islam, I thought to myself when I saw this article, I thought “yay finally we can investigate whatever topic we feel like!” Criticizing Islam is not “playing into the hands of Zionists!” But what right does Henry have to caution Jeff on what he should write on his site! He doesn’t have any right at all! I have the footnote (17.) It’s recommended reading of how absurd as to how easily tremors strike the community.¹⁷ Just like when someone changes a physical address, I’ll make sure, I’ll keep those files as proof that Islam is totally off limits. It’s not just Islam that’s off limits but countries like China are too! More on that country later on. But for now I’ll finish off on that country by saying as by an example it’s like as if, if you criticize China, you have to criticize a billionaire Jew like George Soros who said “China will lead the New World Order.” Obviously I don’t like him and I don’t approve that statement at all but if China is at fault blame them for something for a change! Plenty of people and organizations, without mercy, criticize the United States! And all too often don’t make it clear that they are critical of the government and ordinary citizens are blamed for the most heinous crimes. But plenty of immigrants still go there! Fundamentalist Muslims Like Ahmadinejad calling it “the great Satan” while Israel is “the little Satan.” There are millions of Iranians in America, so does that make them “Satanic?” But I urge caution on Iran: I am totally against any military action against Iran despite this leader’s fundamentalists views on the 12th Imam and his waiting for his “Islamic Messiah, which is not mainstream Shiite Islam teachings. I believe privately there are countries like Saudi Arabia that would publicly support Iran but privately would see the current regime as a pariah state.

DAVID LIVINGSTONE’S ATTACK ON CHRISTIANITY AND WESTERN CIVILIZATION

[Prelude: An article on Henry Makow’s site called “A Canadian Laments Multiculturalism,”¹⁸ was nothing but comments full of resentment by anti white bashers. Henry usually puts his own input in on those who make comments, but none was made in defense of the white man who lamented multiculturalism. But talk about his more favorite topics like Zionism, world Jewry and his love of dispelling myths from the mainstream media about false flags done by Mossad, (rather than Muslims) or the Satanists (Illuminati) who control this world, mostly by Jews.] This leads me into this topic: Henry’s recommendation of the book called Terrorism and the Illuminati,¹⁹ by “David Livingstone,” who is also the author of a book dealing with his nemesis “white devil,” in The Dying God. In other words his contempt for white civilization.²⁰ The page has since been removed but it is in his “Dying God” book [See footnote 23.] I know I have abruptly gone into this topic and so I will send a bit of time talking about these books particularly the “Terrorism and the Illuminati” book. I tell the readers of this book that it will quickly make sense.

¹⁷ <http://www.henrymakow.com/reuse.html> “Mark Glenn's Attack on Jeff Rense.”

¹⁸ http://www.henrymakow.com/race_issues_at_work.html “A Canadian Laments “Multiculturalism.”

¹⁹ <http://www.henrymakow.com/002159.html> “Independent Historian Unveils Cabalist Conspiracy.”

First here is the product description of “David Livingstone’s book “The Dying God” and straight after “Terrorism and the Illuminati.”

“Product Description

Few would acknowledge that our knowledge of history could be significantly inaccurate. The most common conception of history is one that begins in Greece, the "cradle of Western civilization", then progresses through Rome, and finally Europe and America. However, this merely represents a strictly Western version of history, and one that is often confused with the history of the World. Fortunately though, recent scholarship has begun to elucidate the extent of the indebtedness of Western history to other civilizations, rendering our notion of "Western" civilization obsolete. Rather, a more accurate assessment of the past will reveal a neglected account, the hidden history of Western civilization, which began in Mesopotamia, in the sixth century BC, with the birth of a tradition centered around the myth of a dying god. The development of this tradition led to the emergence of philosophy among the Greeks, then influenced the formation of Christianity, and was appropriated and elaborated upon by the Arabs during the Middle Ages. Ultimately, being introduced to Europe during the Crusades, it eventually spawned the Renaissance and the Enlightenment.”²¹ We would love to know why Henry Ford engineered the first car, Christopher Columbus and Captain Cook who were the first ones to navigate around the world, and to found powerful, democratic countries which encourages creativity and freedom. The printing press in Europe... And recently the whispering that pharaoh’s like Tutankhamen were actually white!²² The inventor of the Internet — all these people were white Europeans! Unfortunately political correctness is at an all time high and books like “1421: The Year China Discovered America” by Gavin Menzies (an anti white traitor) don’t help but which is obviously lies! Chinese people may have had gun power before Europeans. But as what I remember Brian Wilshire saying was that the Chinese used gunpowder for frivolous things like fireworks and toy steam engine trains. While Europeans used it for weaponry which was useful to defend the civilization (at that time) against the ²⁰ <http://web.archive.org/web/20100314075628/http://www.thedyinggod.com/index.html> “The Dying God.”

²¹ <http://astore.amazon.com/thedyinggodthehi/detail/0595231993/184-8295091-5528325>

²² <http://www.africancrisis.co.za/Article.php?ID=77632&M=W&> “Ancient Egypt: King Tut’s DNA was 99.6% European - Was Cleopatra White?”

Ottoman Turkish empire. Another note to add look at the imagery of his site which is clearly racist and dramatically anti European.”

Although truncated from, here is a snippet on his anti Christian thesis “The Dying God.” This was originally from his website: (<http://www.thedyinggod.com/index.html>) . It’s quite preposterous and it was not possible to condense because it all seemed like a huge attack on anything western. Take the time to read.

“The Myth of Western Civilization

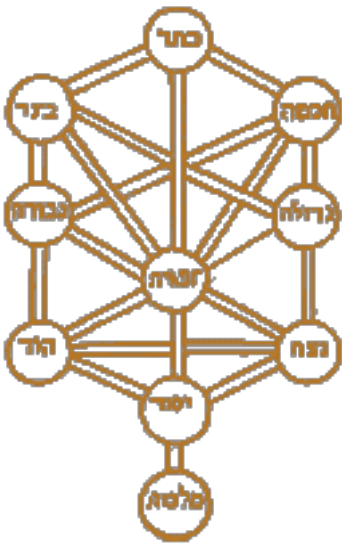

George Hegel

And as such, the myth of "Western Civilization" was born. Through their influence, the entire American educational system was coordinated to serve a centralized command, to further specific areas of scientific research, and to inculcate a proper "interpretation" of history. In Universities and the Capitalist State, Clyde Barrow commented that:

The full-scale rewriting of history under state supervision not only facilitated a short-term justification of American participation in the war, but also helped to institutionalize a much broader and more permanent ideological conception of the United States in the social sciences and humanities.

Initially, the notion of "Western Civilization" was created to foster a sense of identity among the Allied Powers, as members of a single civilization, pitted against the East, in the case of World War I, Germany. However, the development of this idea can be dated back to the early nineteenth century, with Hegel. As demonstrated by Glenn Magee, in Hegel and the Hermetic tradition, Hegel's ideas were based on the occult. Borrowing from the Jewish Kabbalah, he developed the idea of history as progress of God coming to know himself through the intellectual evolution of man. In Hegel's terms, this mean man's evolution towards what he called "freedom". This "freedom" was when man discovered that he is God.

This idea was in the service of secret societies, most notably the Illuminati, whose goal was the eradication of Christianity, and its replacement with secular rule. Therefore, "liberty", represented "freedom" from religion. A traditional interpretation of history according to the Bible was replaced by a version that proposed that humanity has been evolving towards secularism. Prior to Hegel, it was common for European historians to acknowledge the persistent influence of the East, but Hegel de-emphasized its contribution, in favour of celebrating the exclusive "genius" of the Greeks. As such, to foster sympathy for their objectives among the common citizenry, it was argued that secularism began among the Greeks, who were the first to question the validity of myth, and that the West steadily progressed away from "superstition". The first great advances were with the Renaissance, which developed the philosophy of "Humanism", which culminated in the triumph of the American and French revolutions, and the creation of "democracy".

However, when we make a closer examination of the so-called history of "Western civilization", we discover that the modern myth that has been created is an attempt to show the advancement of the occult philosophy of these secret societies. Though its origin is placed far back in time, on the lost continent of Atlantis, and prior to the Flood, in reality, this tradition begins in Babylon, in the sixth century BC. In ancient times with the worship of a dying-god, whose death and resurrection were celebrated annually, but in the sixth century, his worship was combined with Jewish mystical ideas, and Babylonian astrology and magic, to create what is known today as the Kabbalah. It is by following the development of the Kabbalah through history that we arrive as the ..."

Yes, Western Civilization is hijacked by secular humanism, but he's looking at it in this epoch... this declining civilization (deliberate and done by design; by globalists.) George Hegel does not speak for me or most western or white people! Mostly what "David Livingstone" said is trash and libel against western society. It begs the question — why does he live in a western country like Canada, why not live in the subcontinent or Middle East which his appearance fits like a glove? Why choose a pseudonym like "David Livingstone?" Why can't he proud of his own heritage? Livingstone is a white European name originally from Scotland! So why be caught dead with a name from western Europe — these people he hates so much! It's not just him, but a lot of non-whites in this era use western names, and again I say, why can't non-whites be proud of their own heritage? [Later on in this book I delve into this kind of topic again.] Dear non-whites, Having a white name in the future will be a burden, because white people will dwindle in importance due to a massive population decline.

If one had doubts about this man, he makes it clear as day with his Muslim preaching website with his buddy Dr. Sahib Mustaqim Bleher.²³ Both are converts to Islam: <http://surrenderingislam.com/about-authors>

He does not stop at trashing Western civilization. In his book Illuminati Terrorism, he equates St Paul with being responsible with the spread of Gnosticism. "The agent responsible for the formulation and spread this Gnostic interpretation of Christianity, was Paul, the Thirteenth Apostle."²⁴ Apparently Paul's influence and connection to the Harridans brought about the so-called Gnosticism influence in the early church. Apparently just because a heretic "speaks well of you" there has to be a connection "Instead of repudiating Paul as their obstinate opponent, the Naassenes and Valentinians revere him as the one of the apostles who, above all others, was himself a Gnostic initiate. The Valentinians, in particular, allege that their secret tradition offers direct access to Paul's own teaching of wisdom and gnosis. According to Clement "they say that Valentinus was a hearer of Theudas, and Theudas, in turn, a disciple of Paul."11" The logic is not there. For example plenty of people may like Barack Obama but that does not mean they know him personally or they are aware that the Jewish community labelled him as the "first Jewish president" and that he is not eligible to be president.

Many Muslims speak ill of Western Civilization or even Eastern Civilization, where Muslims claim that Copts means "The term, Copt, became misleadingly referring to Egyptian Christianity and Egyptians who remained Christian only, despite the fact that the word means native Egyptian Muslims and native Egyptian non-Muslims." And "Another name of Egyptians is "Copt", which is simply an Arabic derivative of the previously mentioned Greek word "Aiguptios" standing for native Egyptians regardless of religion."²⁵ But what does the Apple dictionary (New Oxford American Dictionary) say? "Coptic the language of the Copts, which represents the final stage of ancient Egyptian. It now survives only as the liturgical language of the Coptic Church.

²³ <http://surrenderingislam.com/about-authors> "Surrendering Islam."

²⁴ P 39

²⁵ <http://www.onislam.net/english/back-to-religion/covering-religion/454347-copts-does-it-refer-to-egyptian-muslims.html> "Copts: Does the Word Refer to "Egyptian Muslims?"

adjective of or relating to the Copts or their language.”

Not only does David viciously attack Western Civilization, but he even goes as far to say (get this) Christianity is Satanic. Let me show you a quote from his book: “To those initiates who could be duped into higher levels, however, they would be instructed of the real meaning of the interpretation, where Jesus was equated as the enemy of their “god,” Lucifer, and believed to have been killed as a form of ritual sacrifice. This esoteric interpretation came to be known as Gnosticism, and became the basis through which the Western occult tradition subverted Christianity, and secretly inculcated the worship of Lucifer.”²⁶ I am utterly surprised and astonished, to my knowledge, no one in the truth community has come forth and exposed this man. If David really knew his info he would realize that Gnosticism is more than “Jewish influence” but originated in Jewish circles. Encyclopedia Britannica 1973 on page 505 states “More important for Gnosticism are the early Merkabah mystics of Palestinian Judaism (see Cabala), who conceived their doctrine concerning the ascent through the heavens and the “measuring of the body of God” as esoteric lore for the elect, a higher knowledge of things heavenly and divine. This current may have been stimulated by the magic and syncretism of the contemporary Hellenistic world, but it developed in the very midst of Judaism itself.” If Christianity is Satanic, why doesn't he remove the veil from his eyes and recognize the devil that is Islam? The very Catholic Encyclopedia he quotes from about Gnosticism, also has this to say about the sources of Islam:

<http://www.newadvent.org/cathen/08692a.htm>

The sources of the Koran be reduced to six:

- The Old Testament (canonical and apocryphal) and the hybrid Judaism of the late rabbinical schools. During Mohammed's time the Jews were numerous in many parts of Arabia, especially around Medina. Familiarity with them is undoubtedly responsible for many Old Testament stories alluded to in Koran. Later Judaism and Rabbinism are equally well represented (Geiger, "Was hat Mohammed aus dem Judenthum aufgenommen?", Wiesbaden, 1833; tr. "Judaism and Islam", Madras, 1898).
- The New Testament (canonical and apocryphal) and various heretical doctrines. On his journeys between Syria, Hijaz, and Yemen, Mohammed had every opportunity to come in close touch with Yemenite, Abyssinian, Ghassanite, and Syrian Christians, especially heretic. Hence, while the influence of orthodox Christianity upon the Koran has been slight, apocryphal and heretical Christian legends, on the other hand, are one of the original sources of Koranic faith. (See Muir, op. cit. infra, 66-239; Tisdall, "The Original Sources of the Qur'an", London, 1905, 55-211.)

- Sabaism, a combination of Judaism, Manicheism, and old disfigured Babylonian heathenism.
- Zoroastrianism. On account of Persia's political influence in the north-eastern part of Arabia, it is natural to find Zoroastrian elements in the Koran.
- Hanifism, the adherents of which, called Hanifs, must have been considerable in number and influence, as it is known from contemporary Arabian sources that twelve of Mohammed's followers were members of this sect.
- Native ancient and contemporary Arabian heathen beliefs and practices. Wellhausen has collected in his "Reste des arabischen Heidentums" (Berlin, 1897) all that is known of pre-Islamic Arabian heathen belief, traditions, customs, and superstitions, many of which are either alluded to or accepted and incorporated in the Koran. From the various sects and creeds, and Abul-Fida, the well-known historian and geographer of the twelfth century, it is clear that religious beliefs and practices of the Arabs of Mohammed's day form one of the many sources of Islam. From this heathen source Islam derived the practices of polygamy and slavery, which Mohammed sanctioned by adopting them.

What an amazing revelation of sources this encyclopedia has supplied. Many people have exposed the absurdities of Islam like Robert Spencer and Serge Trifkovic. It must be said that Islam is outright Satanic. Consider the following passage:

<http://answering-islam.org/Responses/Saifullah/sverses.htm>

That evening Gabriel came to him and reviewed the surah with him, and when he reached the two phrases which Satan had cast upon his tongue he said, "I did not bring you these two." Then the messenger of God said, "I have fabricated things against God and have imputed to him words which He has not spoken." Then God revealed to him:

"And they indeed strove hard to beguile you away from what we have revealed to you, that you should invent other than it against us..."

to the words:

"and then you would have found no helper against us" (177)

He remained grief stricken and anxious until the revelation of the verse:

"Never did we send a messenger or a prophet before you... to the words...God is knower, wise. (178)

When those who had emigrated to Abyssinia heard that all the people of Mecca had accepted Islam, they returned to their clans, saying, "They are more dear to us"; but they found that the people had reversed their decision when God cancelled what Satan had cast upon the messenger of God's tongue.²⁷

Be aware archangel Gabriel will strangle you:

And from The Sword and the Prophet it reads "When it was the night on which God honored him with his mission and showed mercy on His servants thereby, Gabriel brought him the command of God. "He came to me," said the apostle of God, "while I was asleep, with a coverlet of brocade whereon was some writing, and said, 'Read!' I said, 'What shall I read?' He pressed me with it again so that I thought it was death; then he let me go and said "Read!' I said, 'What shall I read?' He pressed me with it the third time so that I thought it was death and said "Read!' I said, 'What then shall I read?' — and this I said only to deliver myself from him, lest he should do the same to me again. He said 'Read in the name of thy Lord who created, Who created man of blood coagulated. Read! Thy Lord is the most beneficent, Who taught by the pen, taught that which they knew not unto men.' So I read it, and he departed from me. And I awoke from my sleep, and it was as though these words were written on my heart." ²⁸

Even worse "Gabriel" will rip out your heart:

http://answering-islam.org/Responses/Osama/zawadi_jesus_superior_still.htm

"Anas b. Malik reported that Gabriel came to the Messenger of Allah (may peace be upon him) while he was playing with his playmates. He took hold of him and lay him prostrate on the ground and tore open his breast and took out the heart from it and then extracted a blood-clot out of it and said: That was THE PART OF SATAN IN THEE. And then he washed it with the water of Zamzam in a golden basin and then it was joined together and ²⁷ On the website gives more websites, but by example I've just listed a couple here.

http://www.answering-islam.org/Index/S/satanic_verses.html

http://www.answering-islam.org/Shamoun/satanic_verses.htm

http://www.answering-islam.org/Authors/Wood/bewitched_prophet.htm restored to its place. The boys came running to his mother, i.e. his nurse, and said: Verily Muhammad has been murdered. They all rushed toward him (and found him all right). His color was changed, Anas said. I myself saw the marks of a needle on his breast. (Sahih Muslim, Book 1, Number 311²⁹)”

It is quite clear it's Satanic. Intellectual honest would be appreciated here. Muslims cannot escape the excuse that it's not from the Koran and somehow the Hadith is less reliable because let's face it — the New Oxford American Dictionary says “Sunna the traditional portion of Muslim law based on Muhammad's words or acts, accepted (together with the Koran) as authoritative by Muslims and followed particularly by Sunni Muslims.

ORIGIN Arabic, literally ‘form, way, course, rule.’” The tradition IS THE HADITH.”

the concept of praying 5 times a day is from the Hadith not the Koran. The idea of stoning for adultery from Bible times has been stoning, correctly stated in the Hadith. The Koran says it's 40 lashes.”

David as a Muslim would deny Jesus dying upon a cross, but would read heretical books that Christians never accepted as “gospel.”

Even back in the day of Muhammed's existence, (if he did indeed exist according to Jay Smith³⁰) he even had something racist to say about white people! “O people! Your God is one and your forefather (Adam) is one. An Arab is not better than a non-Arab and a non-Arab is not better than an Arab, and a white person is not better than a black person and a black person is not better than a white person,except in piety.”

Yes you read correctly according to Muhammed — white people aren't very pious!³¹

Earlier this year, silly me I thought it was up Brother Nathaniel's alley, I thought I would ask him of his opinions on the Church that was destroyed near the world trade Center. I got a rather harsh reply saying “I Know all about St Nicholas Church at Ground Zero. Jews are the enemies of the Holy Orthodox Church! +bn”³² Brother Nathanael is understandably not happy about the Hanukkah being put on display around Christmas time at the White House, but why not fight for other critical issues like putting the church back at Ground Zero? This would bring additional attention to

²⁹ <http://cmje.org/#001.0311> “Center for Jewish-Muslim Engagement.”

³⁰ <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NVEDSzpHayk> “Muhammed-Is he Historical?” (PfanderFilms.)

³¹ Narrated in Mosnad Ahmad, #22978.

³² Dated 24th August 2011 the rights of Christians and the truth about twin towers actually being blown up inside.

DONATIONS

An associate of mine loves to listen to the Garden Clinic on Sydney's 2GB radio station every Saturday and Sunday. Graham is an evangelical or "born again" Christian, who also has another show called Better Homes and Gardens on channel 7. These "God-squad" Christians who always smile perpetually like Ned Flanders, are quite materialistic — always telling people to go to Bunnings (a hardware store) where you can find sells a variety of fertilizers and other products to help in the garden. Quite materialistic for someone who is so fond of his Christianity. My associate told me if you ring up the show, you can wait in the queue for many minutes and even then you may not make it through on air and put 2 and 2 together — preferential treatment is given to people who are a member of their money-making "garden clinic" program! So, do we really want to emulate this kind of thinking in the alternative media? There are plenty of people worse that I could have mentioned and there are many of them in America that I like this (I would assume it's similar in Australia, but I am not so familiar with this denomination or style of Christianity.) But, what happens if you donate to Brother Nathaniel and Texe Marrs? Texe Marrs has told me "likes getting my emails." Maybe not now, despite me donating when on air he always cries out for money (called "love gifts") and telling his audience his staff do not have retirement plans and rely on the love gifts (he recently started off the "Employee Appreciation Month" to help his staff.) Despite me giving him donations, despite buying books from his website, this does not necessarily make you more "connected" and appreciated with these organizations. With Brother Nathaniel, it's the same. It's called "conditional love" or "conditional friendship" despite them swearing the contrary. The minute you ask Brother Nathaniel about the church that went down on 9/11 in NY he'll scream his frantic "Jeeeeews" at you, or Texe will just simply say he is "too busy." Believe me, I know the difference when someone is "too busy" or when you've gone against what they believe in as if you are a "Zionist." (God forbid!)

Despite Brother Nathaniel being an Orthodox monk and bringing out videos in praise of the Byzantine empire, I never heard him defend Orthodox Christians³³ in the ³³ Mainly non-Chalcedon Christians are situation in the Middle East, Eritrea and Ethiopia which is a minor division of Orthodox Christianity.

Middle East or even “Chalcedon Christians.”³⁴ Despite in Egypt, during the months-long Egyptian protests to throw Hosni Mubarak, the military junta’s army tanks, were literally running over (mostly) Christians, only to be called “whinging Christians” on a radio show called PM³⁵ by a “journalist” working for Al-Jazeera! Many around the world were sympathetic towards the Egyptians who suffered under Hosni Mubarak, but no support from Western Christians (including Brother Nathaniel — even though he’s Orthodox himself!) who don’t give a word of support to those who worship the same Lord and Savior — the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob — the Lord God and the Savior Jesus Christ. Of course Texe Marrs wouldn’t care because he would see Orthodoxy as too closely resembling Catholics which he hates! But, on the other hand an Orthodox Monk by the name of Sergius Nilus who revealed the Protocols of Zion; magically becomes Christian. To add, where was the outrage of a white western woman (Lara Logan) who was pack raped by a massive amount of men? Indeed, it makes it hard to have sympathy for Egyptian society when this kind of a hideous act goes on.

ISRAEL AND PALESTINE

I am in a minority of people in the world where over many years, I have spent so much time reading news articles, books and videos, I can’t help feel that I am neither pro Israel or Palestine! I refuse for anybody or any organization to dictate to me otherwise! It’s obviously dangerous to be unbalanced on how things are reported in this most volatile part of the world. I see shocking things done to each other, with the Christians seemingly like the “piggy in the middle.” Of course this is a no-no in the alternative media. World Net Daily would tell me to be pro Israel! Jeff Rense would do the usual ‘Israel is bad’ no matter what. And even if he does have a Israeli reporter on his site, he’s got to hate Israel of course and be like Gilad Atzmon who doesn’t live there! But why not get a person who actually lives there? Jeff doesn’t have to have Israeli reporters. He can have Arab ones as well — Christian or Muslim. I don’t know of any country on earth that can be totally good or bad. Just like ancient Israel had good and bad kings. David is one of the most important characters in the Bible due to lineage, etc, but even he committed a great sin by murdering Uriah as a way to get his wife!³⁶

³⁴ That is mainstream Orthodox Christianity which is under the Patriarch in Constantinople. It was the fourth council which concerning it’s condemnation of Monophysite position and affirming the dual but united nature of Christ as God and man.

³⁵ ABC 702 Nov 2011.

³⁶ 2 Samuel 11.

Not a word is mentioned when a person fires a missile (traditionally in the form of katushya rockets) from Gaza, or when Gilad Shilat was held for many years by Lebanese terrorists, but plenty is said about the Flotilla incident. The damage done to the Temple Mount is horrendous, many artifacts have been damaged and literally tossed aside, Jewish patriarchs in the Bible have been vandalized and smashed into pieces, but not a word from the Christian Texe Marrs or Brother Nathaniel. Also, Israeli archeologists can't even do excavations to unearth important artifacts that are believed to be hidden because of sensitivity towards Arabs.³⁷ Graves of patriarchs like the biblical Joseph have been destroyed.³⁸ Sometimes when Muslim graves have been destroyed, it's been a hoax.³⁹ A little more on hoaxes later. It's always confusing or complicated talking about Israelis and Palestinians, because there was an altercation where Israeli graves would be removed due to illegal settlements.⁴⁰ If a Jew did it to Muslim graves you'd better believe it — Jeff Rense would be up in arms with his staff posting many entries from mainstream newspapers other "truthers" and so on. Jeff Rense proudly proclaims on his website "Rense.com - Worlds #1 Alternative News Service Your First Source For Reality & Honest Journalism." But does he really when he as complete idiots like "108morris108"⁴¹ ("Morris") who interviews Anjem Choudary⁴² – a known Muslim fundamentalist advocates a Muslim state!⁴³ And no doubt a caliphate for the whole world! Clearly, he is an anti-white Muslim apologist who is far too concerned with Muslim rights, rather than the rights of the native English. ⁴⁴ What would the Jew "Morris" say about a native English woman Emma West who lamented and protested on a tram against a very un-English England⁴⁵ which is choc-a-bloc full of people who are black, Pakistan, Asian and Polish? What a horrible reality it is, when just under 20 white natives protested at ³⁷ <http://www.wnd.com/2011/06/307697/> "2nd Jewish temple Just 'waiting to be unearthed.'"

³⁸ <http://www.wnd.com/2003/02/17434/> "Arab Vandals Desecrate Joseph's Tomb."

³⁹ <http://news.smh.com.au/breaking-news-world/destroyed-graves-in-jerusalem-fake-20100813-121qp.html> "Destroyed graves in Jerusalem 'fake.'"

⁴⁰ <http://www.wnd.com/2005/06/30991/> "Issue of Gaza's Jewish Graves Still Unresolved."

⁴¹ His Youtube channel name.

⁴² http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sbGuzBp9_dM "Anjem Choudary on Weddings, Sharia, Pakistan, Britain, and More."

⁴³ <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fIRd4W7sz7E> Ironically in September 2011 he wrote "RUDE comments get removed." That's big coming from him for giving so much time to someone dedicated to destroying a once great country Great Britain!

⁴⁴ <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dZGKASemZso> "Freedom of Speech can mean Go To Jail"

⁴⁵ <http://www.mirror.co.uk/news/top-stories/2011/11/30/mum-arrested-over-my-tram-experience-youtube-video-locked-up-for-own-protection-115875-23598452/> "Mum arrested over My Tram Experience YouTube video locked up for "own protection"

HMP Bronzefield against who arrest and imprisonment!⁴⁶ To add, this poor woman, despite her poor delivery, she still is a human being, she has a child that needs taking care of. One can only imagine what is happening to the child as I write this book,⁴⁷ what about the father or even the divorced father?

If there was no Israel, no US troops or any non-Middle Eastern entity in that region of the world, there still would be hatred. Hamas and Fatah would still be fighting, Palestinians would still be treated like 2nd class citizens with the majority of them living in places like Egypt and Hamas. The Taliban is likely to come back and terrorize everyday Afghanis because it's like what Serge Trifkovic said this eternal war in Islam. The Jihad never stops. And I don't think it means like "internal struggle" as what Muslim apologists say, but an outward, violent struggle against their "enemies." Let it be clear, even if there were no secret organizations like Mossad and CIA in the Middle East, still there would be no peace in the Middle East. And again, the "truth movement," gets everything off balance with this finger pointing, punch bag against western people like it's "ALL THEIR FAULT!" The truth about Israel or Egypt, etc, is that there is no black and white. It's shades of gray. Consider how complicated things can be with this Middle Eastern adage "There can be no war without Egypt, and no peace without Syria."

The worst thing about Israel is that so much money is drained out of the United States to fund this tiny nation in the Middle East and their political involved in the US and the terrorism by Mossad. Israelis do terrorism just as much as Muslims! If I sidetrack a little bit, it obviously it was suspicious when Kevin Rudd stepped down as Prime Minister, when Mossad was using Australian passports when killing Hamas leader Mahmoud Al Mabhouh in January 2010.⁴⁸ But no matter what Israel does, the US most supports Israel. They have nuclear weapons, they sabotaged the USS liberty in 1967,⁴⁹ they were involved in 9/11⁵⁰ and they can make fun of Christianity and mock the crucifixion on Israeli TV,⁵¹ they can do all this because there is this mantra that no

⁴⁶ <http://www.demotix.com/news/951463/prison-protest-calls-release-tram-rant-woman-emma-west> "Prison protest calls for release of 'tram rant woman' Emma West"

⁴⁷ 5th December 2011

⁴⁸ <http://www.abc.net.au/news/2010-02-26/mossad-factory-churned-out-fake-australian/343612> "Mossad 'factory' churned out fake Australian passports."

⁴⁹ See Victor Thorn's book "Ship Without A Country: Eyewitness Accounts of the Attack on the USS Liberty.

⁵⁰ See Victor Thorn's "9/11 Evil."

⁵¹ <http://www.intifada-palestine.com/2011/04/mocking-jesus-on-israeli-tv-%D7%A6%D7%9C%D7%99%D7%91%D7%AA-%D7%99%D7%A9%D7%95-the-crucifixion-of-yeshu-video/> "MOCKING JESUS ON ISRAELI TV – צליבת ישו – THE CRUCIFIXION OF "YESHU" [VIDEO]" matter what Israel does, that “Israel has a right to defend itself!” Of course when I heard about the Palestinian shepherd as a dying occupation in the West Bank⁵² because of Israel’s land grabbing,⁵³ it made me feel sad, quite sad honestly. Because this is his lively-hood and he loves his occupation and his son doesn’t see a future in it! This is very similar to what’s happening to Australian farmer’s sons and daughters forced to move to the city because they see farming as a dead end occupation, thanks to globalists!

Israel, like in Palestine is also religiously intolerant. Who else has check points and highways where only Israelis are allowed to drive on? Like with the burning of New Testaments (like what the Talmud tells them to), burning church buildings,⁵⁴ spitting on Christian priests,⁵⁵ like with the demand of back payment of water bills GOING BACK TO 1967 for churches like the Holy Sepulcher!⁵⁶ I mean look at the most disparaging comments that Israelis make in Israeli news articles online. Anything to do with Christians and even Zionists “Christians” like John Hagee, they say the most terrible things about them! So yes, maybe I was too polite when I said “disparaging.” It’s really quite debilitating towards Christians and they get away it in silence in THEIR media. But if it was say the New York times, it would be all hush hush. We all know that! Only a minority of Israeli Jews say good things about Christians. The ones that do are from the USA or other western countries, and every now and then, some other non-western place in the world; where perhaps it’s where there’s been successful evangelical western missions. Even with Jews against Israel like Neturei Karta, they still use the Talmud as part of their religion. Taken from the section ‘What is the Neturei Karta?’ it reads: “Condemnation of and segregation from anything connected to or affiliated with the so-called modern day "State of Israel" is based on the Talmud, the key fundamental doctrine of the Oral Tradition handed down by G-d⁵⁷ to Moses on Mt. Sinai. The Talmud in Tractate Kesubos (p. 111a), teaches that Jews shall not use human force to bring about the establishment of a Jewish state

⁵² Just like in Bible times, it is still known in Israel as “Judea and Samaria.”

⁵³ <http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/world-middle-east-16318626> “Bethlehem’s Shepherds a Dying Breed.”

⁵⁴ <http://www.haaretz.com/news/orthodox-jewish-youths-burn-new-testaments-in-or-yehuda-1.246153> “Orthodox Jewish youths burn New Testaments in Or Yehuda.” (Includes info on burning down churches.)

⁵⁵ <http://www.haaretz.com/print-edition/news/christians-in-jerusalem-want-jews-to-stop-spitting-on-them-1.137099> “Christians in Jerusalem want Jews to stop spitting on them.”

⁵⁶ <http://www.jpost.com/Israel/Article.aspx?id=183460> “Church of Holy Sepulcher stuck with bill.”

⁵⁷ To abbreviate God’s name as “G-d” or “L-d” is a typical aspect of Judaism.

before the coming of the universally accepted Moshiach (Messiah from the House of David).”^{58,59}

I’ve been in chatrooms to talk about a whole range of things — from politics, sport, race, religion, etc. And just like in this book, I can’t be accused of just criticizing Islam or Judaism. There was one time, where I had a debate with a young and intelligent Israeli, who was attending university at the time, about the current situation there with Palestinians. He told me that doesn’t agree with everything that Israel does and that the settlers in the West Bank were going too far. He told me about that Israelis should be able to live in peace but the government is out of touch with the people, just like in western countries.⁶⁰ He even alerted me to the attention of archaeological forgeries and I investigated what he told me and thought it was unbelievable — not because they are Israeli Jews that are doing it, but because I detest that kind of thing. Whether it’s Israelis, Italians, Germans, or Chinese claiming to have found some ancient bone or pottery, it does take away from genuine discoveries. The Shroud of Turin, well, I don’t know what to think about that because it seems like it’s gone into something akin to Greek mythology and that is fit for another book.

WHITE ANGLO-SAXON PROTESTANT

There is an overwhelming amount of people in the alternative media who are from the low church, evangelical Protestant tradition or the close counterpart, the non-denominational⁶¹ crowd and are of course what the heading indicates, white people. Texe Marrs,⁶² Alex Jones and Mark Dice and Fritz Springier are the more obvious people who come to mind in this crowd. I believe they are genuinely Christian and I have no doubt to believe that, but let’s face it: America was built on this tradition of ⁵⁸ This is obvious something positive about the Talmud but there are others like Michael Hoffman who obviously disagrees in his book entitled “Judaism Discovered: A Study of the Anti-Biblical Religion of Racism, Self-Worship, Superstition and Deceit.” The mainstream media can’t pretend these books do not exist. We should always be aware of a diversity of views on topics, whether we disagree with them or not.

⁵⁹ In late 2011, there were critics of Talmud which highlighted some of the bigotry in that book on Wikipedia which has since been deleted. As a reminder never trust Wikipedia!

⁶⁰ Of course Israel has a western-style democracy, even if some will call it apartheid or deny it’s democratic values. But I don’t think it’s western simply because it’s in the Middle East, and I’ve always thought it was weird that countries like Israel, Turkey and Azerbaijan are in Eurovision for instance. No matter how trivial it might seem to some people, we can’t just blindly accept things, we got to question and believe in freedom of speech.

⁶¹ Most people in the non-denominational churches stem from Protestantism. But it can mean “open or acceptable to people of any Christian denomination.” [New Oxford American Dictionary]

⁶² Non-denominational but originally a Baptist. Evidence is drawn from the fact he uses such beliefs as ABC — Accept Believe Confess Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

Christianity which is slowly being eroded by Catholicism because the flood gates of the Hispanic world continue to come in America. And again let's face it: Hispanics are majority Catholic, at least in name. Wretches like Stephen Steinlight would positively love to destroy this culture which is well on its way. I don't know how else to introduce this topic and I am not advocating this enemy of white Gentiles but even Stephen realizes the dangerous of Islam which challenge Jewish authority. There are 2 striking quotes form this article and if you got time please read the whole article. It's a must read for any white Gentile European. Here is alarm over Islamic immigration in the United States:

“Far more potentially perilous, does it matter to Jews and for American support for Israel when the Jewish State arguably faces existential peril that Islam is the fastest growing religion in the United States? That undoubtedly at some point in the next 20 years Muslims will outnumber Jews, and that Muslims with an "Islamic agenda" are growing active politically through a widespread network of national organizations? That this is occurring at a time when the religion of Islam is being supplanted in many of the Islamic immigrant sending countries by the totalitarian ideology of Islamism of which vehement anti-Semitism and anti-Zionism form central tenets? Will our status suffer when the Judeo-Christian cultural construct yields, first, to a Judeo-Christian-Muslim one, and then to an even more expansive sense of national religious identity?”⁶³

This Jew is so alarmed at the time of writing this article — he doesn't even know how many Muslims there are in America, and uses the “magic” 6 million number for some reason.

“It must be added that reliable data on the precise number of Muslims currently living in the United States is extremely difficult to come by. For reasons that appear simultaneously self-evident and self-serving, spokespersons from the organized Muslim community regularly cite the figure of six million Muslims. The number is chosen because it constitutes both a form of demographic riposte to the hated figure of the six million Jewish victims of Nazism that Muslims believe confers vast moral and political advantages on Jews and, secondly, it allows Muslims to claim they have already achieved numerical parity with American Jews. But many demographers and public opinion survey specialists find this figure specious, and place the number far lower. Lower estimates range from three and a half million to as few as two and a half million, with the bulk of the Muslim population being African-American converts to Islam, not immigrant Muslims. We will not chose among these radically differing figures, but only point out that even the lower estimates suggest that given high Muslim immigration Combined with low Jewish fertility and high levels of intermarriage, the rising Muslim population already represents a serious threat to the interests of the American Jewish community, and the danger will only increase with time.”

⁶³ <http://www.cis.org/articles/2001/back1301.html> “The Jewish Stake in America's Changing Demography Reconsidering a Misguided Immigration Policy October 2001 By Stephen Steinlight”

If an anti-American Jew can realize how dangerous Islam can be (the 2nd biggest enemy of Europeans in my opinion alongside Sino-Asian powers like the Chinese,) how is it that us Gentiles are so unaware of this phenomenon? This has been a problem for the world (and for Europeans generally) for 1400 years. Even before the so-called convert of Khazarians to Judaism in 740 AD, a century before the invasion of Egypt. In the 8th century, if it wasn't for Charles Martel, western Europe would have been vastly different and would probably be eternally in the dark ages. People will talk of the Domnehi (crypto-Jews) who took over the Ottoman Empire in the 1700's. But there is something wrong here — When the Turks barged the way through the walls of Constantinople, due to new technologies, which had been impregnable since the 2nd Siege of Constantinople in 717-718, this points the finger at the Muslim invaders — not the Jews! Both events of paramount importance happened before the Khazarians converted to Judaism. So we can't have an automatic mantra and say it was the Jews! Realize that the Muslims are totally at fault for what happened. Their so-called Holy book is in a lot of ways a replica of the Talmud telling their believers to fight the non believers, and to kill Christians and Jews. Many Muslims want a global caliphate, Ahmadinejad wants a New World Order (a Muslim version of course) with his 12th imam (roughly the equivalent to a presbyter or pastor) who will usher in the Messiah. Prominent Zionist Christian Joel Rosenberg is aware of this phenomenon which is a different kettle of fish to Vladimir Putin restoring Russian culture including Russian Orthodoxy in his country. Ahmadinejad believes in wiping Israel off the map is important to his theology to achieve his religious goals. Of course I am not promoting Joel Rosenberg, and either Ahmadinejad, but I am just highlighting the point of dangerous religious fever which Israel is prone to (and who is guilty of having nuclear weapons since 1985, exposed by Mordecai Vanunu.)

In law, being an accessory to a crime is almost as bad as the perpetrator of the crime being committed. This could be applied to the Armenian Genocide, Assyrian Genocide and Greek Genocide which mostly occurred in the early 20th century and late 19th century. I would say those who went along with the Domnehi

(ie Turkish Jews) became an accessory to the crime. As what the Bible says, we are all responsible for our own personal sins.⁶⁴

OWNING UP TO PLAGIARISM

A lot can be said about Texe Marris — his time in the air force, teaching psychology at the University at Austin, his ties with evangelical Christians like Tim LaHaye, and general editor of Rapture Ready Terry James. I am not sure of Rapture Ready site owner, Todd Strandberg,⁶⁵ but none the less all 3 have been around for a long time since the late 1980s. Upon looking at Google books, I was surprised to find a book that Texe Marris contributed to with “rapturist” Tim LaHaye called “Storming Toward Armageddon: Essays in Apocalypse.” (see below figure c.) Have you ever noticed

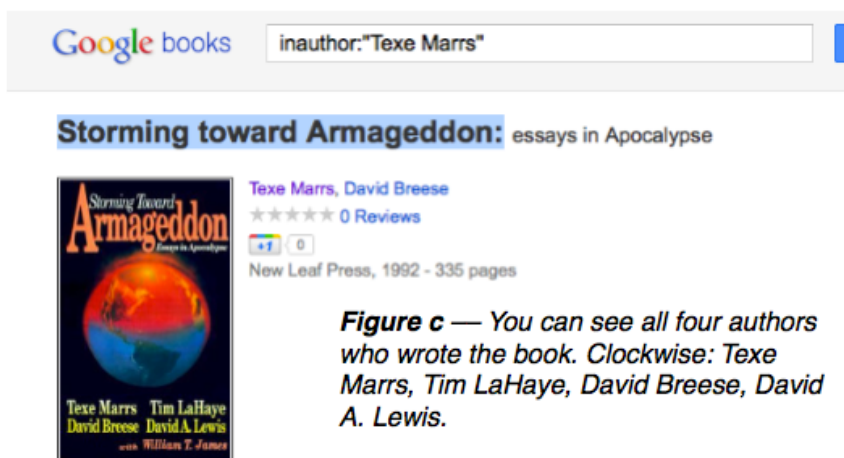

Figure c — You can see all four authors who wrote the book. Clockwise: Texe Marris, Tim LaHaye, David Breese, David A. Lewis.

why you rarely see Texe release anything pre 2000 on his website? Because he was dramatically different back then! He fully believed in the Jews as “holy people” doctrine and was clearly with the evangelical “rapture” crowd. Of course I have believed in things in the past that I thoroughly regret now, but my point being that where is the openness and honesty in Texe? He should not appear on shows like Alex Jones and uses euphemisms like “Zionist” just to make politically correct Alex happy. He should speak direct from his heart and not forgive him and let him get away with it as it seems... presumably because he is a fellow Texan! Ted Pike (also a King James only person) was told off air to not mention “the Jews” as well and Ted peacefully went along with it but understandably now regrets it. I find it ironic that when Alex Jones appears on Texe’s show and Texe brings up the issues of Jews, Alex get’s cold feet and warns of going into dangerous territory, but I remember one occasion when Mark Dice was revealing the truth about the Bilderbergers, I remember Texe being ⁶⁵ I actually emailed Terry James and he told me Todd was of Swedish decent. I couldn’t believe how he tried to hide he was Jewish! Clearly his characteristics don’t say “Swedish,” and I don’t know why people hide their origins? Because we should be proud of who we are.

⁶⁴ Ezekiel 18:20

quite abrupt with him the first time this subject was brought up and cut him off quickly.

Another thing about Texe is why doesn't he denounce the time he spent in the air force and that fact alone has always bothered me. He always uses his time at the air force like a muscle to make himself look like a good moral Christian soldier. But to his credit he has denounced himself as a teacher of psychology.⁶⁶ As what Texe has said about the CIA about not all of them can be bad; as you can just as well find patriots there as you can in the rest of the community. There is nothing wrong with discussing his good time but he starts off his show with saying he is a "career United States airforce officer." Clarity is needed to tie up the loose ends with his audience; so that his listeners know as a general principle back then and now that the US has no right to be the world's policemen, being involved in conflicts such as the Middle East. Also there numerous bases they use to station their troops from all over the world. All this reminds me of the notorious Pine Gape in Northern Territory, Australia. David Rosenberg, a US immigrant who worked at this secret base admitted on Radio National that it is used for spying and admitted that Iraq had no weapons of mass destruction.⁶⁷

This reminds me of Jesse Ventura, often boasts about being a navy seal. However, attorney Bill Salisbury, a former navy seal accused "Ventura of "pretending" to be a SEAL and wrote that Ventura would be blurring an important distinction by claiming to be a SEAL when he was actually a frogman with the UDT. Compared to SEAL Teams, UDTs saw less combat and took fewer casualties."⁶⁸ Undoubtedly shows like Conspiracy Theory cover a whole range of very interesting topics ranging from 9/11, HAARP and the Federal Reserve. Too bad when discussing Global Warming as one of his stories on the show, he dropped a huge bomb saying "...but Al Gore is a friend of mine." The first time I heard that, my jaw dropped. Because here is a guy who wants to be the first billionaire making money on the "carbon market!" The very same guy who is clearly connected with the Rothschilds and obviously of the dynasty David Rothschild who said on Alex Jones' show, a globalist world would be pretty difficult to control! But let's step back a bit, with this connection, wouldn't it be pretty obvious that as well as global warming they have their hands on entertainment and finance, because why was Arnold Schwarzenegger, Warren Buffett and Jacob Rothschild are caught seeing walking together outside one of the mansions of the ⁶⁶ On many shows he has pretty much said psychology and psychiatry are the work of the devil and the new age. Please see his audio CD entitled "Murderers of the Mind." Code: 3897

⁶⁷ <http://www.abc.net.au/radionational/programs/breakfast/what-went-on-behind-closed-doors-at-pine-gap/2919372> "What Went on Behind Closed Doors at Pine Gap." (audio interview with Fran Kelly.)

⁶⁸ http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jesse_Ventura#cite_note-news.minnesota.publicradio.org-7

Rothschilds? Apparently others were invited such as James Wolfensohn (former president of the World Bank), Jorma Ollila CEO of Nokia and De Beers chairman Nicky Oppenheimer.⁶⁹

Often Texe begs his audience for money — let's face it, he equates giving money as having some reward in which God will reward you. Kinda reminds me of Martin Luther criticizing the Catholic Church for selling indulgence. None the less I don't doubt that Texe is a spiritual man who tells those who can't afford it to pray for him instead, which is a notable thing. But the thing is, Texe is from a very distinguished background — where did his money go from serving in the air force? What about the money from the University of Austin? Unlike me, he lived in a time when America was a lot more stable, feminism certainly wasn't around in the 1950s and all the opportunities were open for him. As a reminder, he wasn't always a collusion reporter like he is now, and was brought up to believe the Jews were the chosen people and initially felt sorry for him. On his show, he gives little insights on his life and indeed the first part of his life was not pleasant because he was dirt poor but obviously made his way out of poverty and made his way "up in the world" with the fantastic career he has had. It may need further investigation but in the early 1980s he stated on his show he turned down an opportunity to have a partnership in the computer industry which involved a lot of high tech stuff for that time. Indeed, he wrote a lot of books on robotics such as Careers in Computers, Careers in High Technology and High Tech Job Finder. I am sorry, but if Texe turned down a great business opportunity which dealt in computer hardware/software which would have made him 100's of thousands of dollars, that's not my problem. Not all of us are fortunate enough to have all the credentials and intelligence in this world to make it big, why squander a great opportunity only to, years later beg people for money each week? No one made you poor, we are not responsible for the US government not giving the full pension allowance that you should be entitled to due to your service in the military. That truly is a bad thing and it's obvious why he does not get paid the full amount due to the "controversial nature" of his ministry (of course I don't agree with that, but Texe has a lot of enemies and anyone else like him like many people whom I have mentioned in this book. It says on the Power of Prophecy website that "Power of Prophecy Ministry has always rejected the government monitored 501(c)3 tax exempt status. Our independence enables us to tell the truth, without government censorship." However, the real reason is a conscience one: an example being issues on abortion. I don't know how anyone could agree with abortion (except when a foreign empire or a person forces their will on a woman which would make me think otherwise.) Texe is honorable in these regards but just to make my point that regardless of the issues, Texe since starting the ministry in 1987 as Living Truth Ministries made the decision himself to be poor and dependent on other people. He had his chances, he lived in dire poverty and then got the opportunities with his fantastic career and then left him with no options because of his conscience. The same could be said about Brother Nathaniel who is also a pre baby boomer, who ran away from home and became a Christian (first Protestant) and then became an Orthodox monk. That was the lifestyle he chose. If I am correct, if he is in a monastery in Colorado, why don't other monks support him? If Jeff Rense is on his board of directors for the Brother Nathaniel foundation, why doesn't Jeff Rense support him?

⁶⁹ <http://www.conspiracyplanet.com/channel.cfm?channelid=2&contentid=961> "Arnold: The Rothschilds' Man in California."

I know that Texe Marrs has unfairly been in trouble with the IRS and consequently had to start up again and change the name of his ministry from Living Truth Ministries to Power of Prophecy and so I don't mean to be harsh on him. Texe Marrs loves to expose other people, and I am afraid that it comes with the territory that criticism will be drawn from those who criticize the establishment. Why don't people dot their i's and cross their t's more? If collusion reporters don't like the mainstream media because it's biased or Zionist infiltrated, they equally can be treated with suspicion with only covering certain issues.

Texe also is also be credited for reading every single email that he receives — regardless of whether he deems it worthy to reply to your email or not even if he says he “likes you,” etc. And sometimes I agree with the emailer, but sometimes I agree with Texe. In cases where people say Texe is obsessed with the Jews — I entirely agree with the emailer! Yes! Texe is obsessed with the Jews! But surprisingly can be silent on them in books like Mysterious Monuments and (you have to look out on it) there are times he won't talk about them at all, certain not with his Bible Home Church (at least when I use to tune into it.) Which is hypocritical because often accuses well-known Christian preachers/pastors of never tackling the Zionist/Jewish issues and how it says in Scripture about the Synagogue of Satan in Revelation 2 and 3 which is quotes quite a lot! He says that Jesus was obsessed with the Jews as well. Quite to the contrary! Jesus Christ was always CONFRONTED by the Jews and was in fear of his life.

John 11: 51-52 He did not say this on his own, but as high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus would die for the Jewish nation, and not only for that nation but also for the scattered children of God, to bring them together and make them one.⁵³ So from that day on they plotted to take his life.

Therefore Jesus no longer moved about publicly among the Jews. Instead he withdrew to a region near the desert, to a village called Ephraim, where he stayed with his disciples.

John 3:2-6 Some of them were looking for a reason to accuse Jesus, so they watched him closely to see if he would heal him on the Sabbath. Jesus said to the man with the shriveled hand, “Stand up in front of everyone.”

Then Jesus asked them, “Which is lawful on the Sabbath: to do good or to do evil, to save life or to kill?” But they remained silent.

He looked around at them in anger and, deeply distressed at their stubborn hearts, said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” He stretched it out, and his hand was completely restored. Then the Pharisees went out and began to plot with the Herodians how they might kill Jesus.

Luke 20: 20 “Keeping a close watch on him, they sent spies, who pretended to be honest. They hoped to catch Jesus in something he said so that they might hand him over to the power and authority of the governor.” Does this sound like man who was “obsessed with the Jews” or someone who lived in fear of his life and someone who knew their hypocrisy?

Texe Marrs has also stated on his show a few times that he use to be bothered by the negative responses in the emails he received from people, but has learnt how to deal with it and prevents it from bothering him anymore. Actually, he takes a humorous angle on the negative emails. He has told his audience a few times that he wakes up happy everyday. He tells his audience of his piety by his daily prayers before meals, being teary-eyed when reading the Bible (as discussed on his Bible Home Church) and humorously warning people for those who would visit him, how much he loves his wife Wanda and rebuking those men who do not love their wives. He is unashamed of his old-fashioned values — and sure why not? But there is one thing that I don't agree with: Texe IS NOT happy! He makes it obvious he is very angry with things, he shouts and gets irate when talking about the politicians who are involved with the occult, the Rothschilds and Rockefellers of this world and breading negative when people want to take their country back. Whether at a conference or on his show Texe shows his mad rage. David Duke, a former member of the Louisiana House of Representatives, is quite the opposite and is unusually positive on the future of the white race, despite all the odds against us.⁷⁰ Christians should take every opportunity to be happy. Even St Paul had a joyful experience even when he was in jail.⁷¹ It's ironic, that a Christian like David Duke who is more well known for his civil rights for whites, has a much more obvious display of a Christian spirit. But ⁷⁰ I know he has a radio show but I am not tuned into it, I am not sure of the consistency of his views concerning the future of the white race.

⁷¹ Philippians 2:17-18, ch 3. Romans 5:3

these people need to take a break from talking about the Jews every now and then. Jews don't control everything. What about the American Free Press?

It's quite interesting to note, that he has listeners in Australia, Ireland and the rest of Europe, but also in Israel. We shouldn't be surprised by his Israeli audience. I've personally spoken to people in chat from Israel who are not happy with Israel's hardline stance on Palestinians, and building dwellings on land that is not their own and therefore defying the UN. One particular man told me that some of the archeology that is dug up is actually fraudulent and is done clearly for monetary purposes or for personal fame and the newspapers in that country have picked up on some of these stories. There are also other activists like Gilad Atzmon; a jazz musician who is a columnist for Jeff Rense — well known in the alternative media, who actually made 4th place in the top ten.⁷²

Texe Marrs's first best seller was Dark Secrets of the New Age, which was released in 1987. It was to my surprise that he copied this. See the following picture:

From: <http://cumbey.blogspot.com.au/2006/11/teixe-marrs-disinformation-for-new-age.html> "My perspective — What Constance Thinks."

DISINFORMATION IN THE 'NEW AGE' - THE SAD AND UGLY SAGA OF TEXE MARRS

I did not meet Texe Marrs until September, 1987, a day before I finished two weeks of Texan speaking engagements. I shared a platform with him the night before leaving at a Baptist Church in Austin, Texas. It was then Texe Marrs' home church. His pastor, to my surprise, said to me when picking me up from the airport, "Now I don't want any conflict between you and Texe Marrs."

I must confess that I felt so isolated doing the original public work against the New Age Movement, that I was then happy to have company. I had not read his book word for word and did not then realize that parts of the book had been copied - word for word - from my original THE HIDDEN DANGERS OF THE RAINBOW.

I had, however, fears from the very beginning that Texe Marrs was turning a serious subject into sensationalism via The National Enquirer type sensationalism.

In the early 1990's. I perused Pat Robertson's book, THE NEW WORLD ORDER. I could not help but notice that there was material evidently directly copied from THE HIDDEN DANGERS OF THE RAINBOW. I called the publisher and complained. They called me back. They acknowledged it was my material and that they would either have to remove it the next printing and/or give me a credit. To add insult to injury, the material copied from me was attributed to the ads by Benjamin Creme proclaiming "The Christ is Now Here." It was obvious that whoever had penned the words had clearly not read the ad, reproduced in its entirety on the back of my 1983 book. I was then sent a letter from Robertson's publisher telling me that the material they used had appeared prior to their using it in Tal Brooke's 1989 book, WHEN THE WORLD WILL BE AS ONE.

Since Tal Brooke had gone to extreme lengths to work to blackball both me and my original work against the New Age Movement in the Christian community, I was justifiably puzzled and angered. I called and wrote his publisher, Harvest House, and complained. They wrote me back. They acknowledged that the original work was mine and that they would either have to remove it and/or give me a credit. Again, it was perfectly clear that Tal Brooke had evidently not read the ad content he purported to quote. I then received a letter from Harvest House saying, "Mrs. Cumbey, we think you should know that two years before Tal Brooke's book was released, Texe Marrs used this same material in his 1987 book. As I had enjoyed an evidently pleasant conversation with Texe Marrs two weeks earlier, I was surprised. I wrote him a letter and requested an explanation.

Texe Marrs was the only one not man enough to admit he had taken the material from me. He composed several pages of circuitous writing saying that the materials had been taken from books newer than my 1983 book, therefore, how could he have copied it from me. He then went on to say, "look, the Holy Spirit gave you that material. Why couldn't He have given the same material to me?"

Yeah, sure, Texe. Word for word?

Whatever Texe may think of Constance Cumbey, clearly he plagiarized her work. A link on Wikipedia (which I checked) shows that he stole information from her book Hidden Dangers of the Rainbow that she wrote in 1983. Texe's book came out 4 years later in Dark Secrets of the New Age, in 1987. So when Constance quotes him as saying ““look, the Holy Spirit gave you that material. Why couldn’t He have given the same material to me?” to which she responded “Yeah, sure, Texe. Word for word?” I can’t help but have sympathy on her. Of course Texe thinks he has a hotline directly to God in which he tries to hide his dishonesty. (As well as being against Texe, I don’t think she would like this book either, no doubt, but we have credit people for their work regardless of what we think of them.) [Note: I am well aware if Constance read my book, she would not like it either.]

⁷² <http://www.activistpost.com/2011/06/10-most-influential-people-in.html#more> "10 Most Influential People in the Alternative Media (2011.)"

Like Texe, a lot could be said about Alex Jones. A lot of people online consider him a shill, who admitted his wife Violet has Polish Jewish ancestry (whom Texe denies and said she’s “Irish” on an Irish radio show a couple of years ago who attended the wedding of Alex and Violet.⁷³) The radio showhost, showed disbelief in his voice and sighed whilst Texe kept talking. There are many clips on youtube where Alex Jones gets on a rant against ordinary callers and once got stuck into Michael Collins Piper. He is known for saying that Arabs control Hollywood (recently has apologized for), for being on the prowl against a rally in favor of gun rights and then blame it on Cointerpro. He has threatened to kill Jeff Rense and his family^{74, 75} and speak ill of the dead by calling Bill Cooper a “drunken fool.” Apparently Jeff Rense posted a link to Brother Nathanael’s site whom we all know is incredibly critical of the Jews. Let’s face it, if they had a partnership deal, this was not the brightest thing Jeff did. But where’s the common sense? They should have got together like civilized men and dealt with this situation.

Interestingly, Bill Cooper warned people that Alex Jones is a scaremonger and Alan Watt (who evidently appears on his show periodically) has had similar remarks to say about this man. If you disagree with Alex Jones, he calls it infighting and that’s what the globalists/Illuminati want to do. I would say about 85-90% of what Alex Jones says is true but the dangerous stuff is the 10-15% that is NOT TRUE is very dangerous. Alex Jones is fully aware of the fact that he and his family are entitled to make aliyah (immigrate to Israel.) In Judaism; one is Jewish through the female bloodline which makes this possible.

Alex Jones likes to think of himself as someone who pretty much started the truth movement. All the things that he takes credit for like 9/11, Bohemian Club and ⁷³ It’s unfortunate that I can’t remember the name of the host. I believe his name was “Olgnier” or “Ulgnier,” but I could be wrong.

⁷⁴ <http://heidilore.wordpress.com/2009/03/30/jeff-rene-files-criminal-charges-against-alex-jones/> “Jeff Rense files criminal charges against Alex Jones.”

⁷⁵ <http://www.dailypaul.com/88061/alex-jones-threatens-jeff-rene-has-him-kicked-off-gcn?page=1> “Alex Jones Threatens Jeff Rense, has him kicked off GCN.”

Bilderbergers did not originate with him. In fact in films like Loose Change which I got while walking back from the college campus, was not originally done by Alex Jones at all but by his side kick Jason Bermas, Korey Rowe and Matthew Brown. But you'd think that Alex with all his bellowing in various cities saying it was an "inside job;" that he did it. Endgame is the documentary about the Bilderbergers, but again, who first found out about the Bilderbergers? Daniel Estulin who is featured in this documentary. This secret group first came to light in the book he wrote "The True Story of the Bilderberg Group." The first one to investigate the cult, Bohemian Club was a journalist by the name of Philip Weiss and wrote about it magazine called Spy Magazine, November 1989 — Masters of the Universe Go to Camp: Inside Bohemian Grove. He may not have been as thorough as Alex but to discover men with beer and touching their private parts in the other, certainly shows it to be a strange, perverse place.⁷⁶ There are others things he did that was spurious, but even Bill Cooper was on the stage early with the alternative media, and it was on 28th June 2001, (see picture below before perhaps this video is taken down) he predicted the terrorist attack that happened in September 11 of that year. So a documentary and prediction was not Alex's doing.

On a side note for roughly a decade, Brian Wilshire predicted there would be a terrorist attack in Manhattan, which is exactly what happened! I find it quite incredible and at the same time, I find it disappointing that I don't have the documentation to prove it. But I was an avid listener of his show for a long time. He had such an impact that one day his morning rival on 2UE John Laws said "The people who listen to Brian Wilshire are a great deal more intelligent than the people who listen to me." Every time he was challenged and people tried to trick him, he would always play that.

⁷⁶ http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bohemian_Grove

One final person, who I must mention is Alan Watt, who supposedly stole the majority of his ideas from a man named Glen Kealey (see picture bottom left.) Various people on forums were saying that his books have photocopied information (which is from Glen's work) and that is a way to know that it's not Alan's originally. Unfortunately, when I look at Glen's websites, they have all been taken down, even when I go to the cache. On the Outlawjournalism's site, where it mentions a calling querying Alan ripping of Kealy's work, it just simply isn't in the audio at 49:50. He is talking about Crispen Tickell and the New Scientist Magazine. I checked a bit before and after that time but it's his usual "cutting through the matrix" style. There are a few websites like Outlawjournalism⁷⁷ with quite a few critical comments of Alan Watt and there are some soundbytes from Glen Kealey saying he plagiarized his work. The main problem is is that we need to see more evidence from Glen's "The Kealey Paper." That is the underlying problem in this debate.

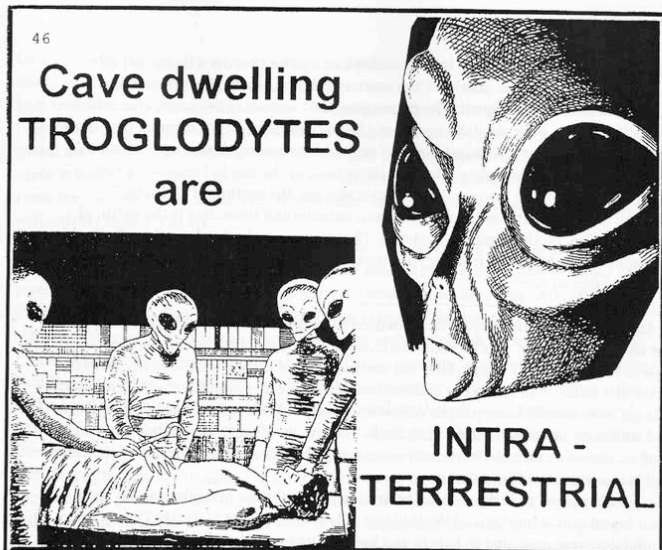

I could go on and on on these kind of things. I could of mentioned others in this media who can equally be accused of plagiarism. However, at times it really is quite difficult to know where the truth starts and ends on these kinds of things. It's like what I heard on the BBC on 21st April 2012 on the conflict between North and the new nation South Sudan. Who is right?

Well the reporter said there is truth on both sides. It's clearly in the gray area, in other words.

⁷⁷ Both pictures "The Kealey Paper" and "Cave dwelling troglodytes" are from: <http://www.outlawjournalism.com/?p=85>

Y's "abba"
Seven Veils in Language

- 1: Common people's faith in the printed word.
- 2: Composite allegory of the Initiated.
- 3: Reverse or mirror languaging.
- 4: Kabalarian Numerology
- 5: Visual symbolism or logos.
- 6: Phonetic meaning in the original language.
- 7: Bacon's English language Hieroglyphics.

Intra=Train =Teach/Cheat
 Trial = Ri-Al-T
 Terre=Earth=The World, The Land

Terre-Saint, ~~Sty~~Hole-Y-Land, Whole Y land
 "Holly-and the Ivy when they are both full grown," one climbs, the other sinks, as above, so below, = Z der/red Z, get the connection, and a flood is deadly to a Neder land, but fill the Eye
 with tears in the WHOLE

(The picture on the on the left is the plagiarized work of Alan Watt.)

SO WHAT WILL PEOPLE TALK ABOUT?

I thought I would put up a table of the kind of things alternative media talk about even if they are reluctant!
 Note: Not all these people are "truthers," but they have "moments" of when they appear to be. The chart is not necessarily of how frequently they criticize Israel or China (for example,) but the fact that they've brought up these topics.

COLLUSION REPORTER/ ORGANIZATIONS	CRITICAL OF JEWS/ JUDAISM/ ISRAEL	CRITICAL OF ISLAM	CRITICAL OF CHINA
Alex Jones	NO	VARIABLES	YES
Mark Dice	Marginal	?	?
Texe Marrs	YES	NO^	YES
Henry Makow	YES	NO	?
David Icke	YES	VARIABLES	?
Michael Savage	NO	YES	YES
Fritz Springmeier	YES	NO	?
Jeff Rense	YES	NEGLECTIBLE∂	NO
Mel Gibson	YES	?	?
Oliver Stone	YES	?	?

COLLUSION REPORTER/ ORGANIZATIONS	CRITICAL OF JEWS/ JUDAISM/ ISRAEL	CRITICAL OF ISLAM	CRITICAL OF CHINA
Richard Goldstone	YES	NO	NO
Serge Trifkovic	NO	YES	?
Robert Spencer	NO	YES	?
Nathanel Kapner	YES	NO^^	YES
Brian Wilshire	%	YES	VARIES
World Net Daily	NO	YES	YES
Henry Ford°	YES	?	N/A
David Duke	YES	?	?
Philip Berg^^	?	YES	?
Richard Nixon	YES	N/A	NO
ABCø	YES	YES	?
Martin Luther	YES	YES	N/A
David Oldfield	NO π	YES	YES

Table Explanations

Has appeared a few times on Texe Marrs's show who has touched on this issue in his book Illuminati — Fact or Fiction?

*Spoke out against the Bohemian Club secret society, which many people archaically still call "Bohemian Grove."

A writer for Jeff Rense quoted long time critique of Islam Robert Spencer. Jeff appears to be more open to criticize Islam.

^Known to criticize Islam on it's absurd doctrines but not on terrorism, violence, etc.

^^ Knows that 9/11 was a government collusion.

ðThat's why I put negligible because I see signs of him criticizing but also other times he seems apologetic of him with his writers' staff.

% In this book, I have discussed Brian being censored and therefore his show being massively cut to 2 hours.

ø Australian Broadcasting Corporation. As a public funded corporation, they have randomly run stories critical of Islam and Judaism, but more of a critical analysis of Judaism.

πHe maybe censored because of his association with 2UE.

^^When confronted, anything Islamic is to be blamed upon by the Jews.

It should be noted that Muslims commit terrorism and that it should be condemned as well as Israeli terrorism.

John F Kennedy spoke out against secret societies in a speech before he died and unfortunately killed for starting to “suss out” evil collusion people. And this chart is just a sample of people/organizations of what I’ve noticed about the things they discuss.

°However he brought in Muslims to work on his car operation plants <http://www.time.com/time/magazine/article/0,9171,1940672,00.html> “Muslims Fear a Fort Hood Backlash” — “Muslims across the country fear that the massacre, which left 12 of Hasan's fellow soldiers and one civilian dead has increased of what they say is widespread hostility toward their community. But it is surprising that Muslims in Dearborn should be fearful. After all, it's hard to imagine an American town where Muslims could feel less threatened: Dearborn (pop. 100,000) has 10 mosques in the area, more than any other city of comparable size. Muslims have had a presence in the Detroit area since the 1920s, when Henry Ford brought over thousands of workers from the Middle East to operate his giant River Rouge plant. People of Middle Eastern origin make up a third of the population; public schools close for Muslim holidays.”

CHRIS CONSTANTINE

Chris Constantine is a fairly well known outspoken (and arrogant) evangelical Christian who appears on Youtube and has a website called www.planetxtube.com. He is obviously of Greek decent. He exposes freemasonry, people like David Icke and various imagery he says in various places from government buildings to Catholic statues, which he always decrees as paganism — even atheism is paganism in his eyes.

He recently brought out a video entitled “Masonic Hand Sign Decryption.”⁷⁸ As usual, he uses cryptology to expose everything as being from the Satanic god Zeus and Apollo who actually Satan in pagan form. In this video he points to the hand sign, hat and cross of St Valentine as cryptically referring to Satan from the Greek. Through some help through an associate, he contacted the priest at the Orthodox Church site and this is what he had to say:

“The description of this icon on the video is utterly incorrect.

⁷⁸ <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PbBisZW6RSU&feature=related> “Masonic Hand Sign Decryption.”

The various elements of the icon that are pointed out are based on his own speculation and interpretation, which is at odds with that of the Church, of course. The elements have nothing to do with Roman numerals. The "halo" behind St. Valentine's head indicates sanctity, not a "number." The cross on the saint's hat is unusual, however -- there were over a dozen Roman saints named "Valentine," and little is known about most of them. Assuming that this is an icon of St. Valentine the martyr/priest -- the most widely known of the "Valentines" -- he was a priest. As such, the robes in the icon are a bit unusual and may indicate that the iconographer is not completely familiar with traditional iconography, nor the manner in which priests are depicted. The hat on the saint is odd in that it is unlike those found on any priest saints in other icons -- most do not wear any sort of hat, much less one that has a cross on it. So the interpretation of this cross and the halo as a number is very strange, and downright wrong.

St. Valentine is depicted holding a cross -- as is appropriate in icons of the martyrs. Of course, the interpreter equates the cross with an X and defines it as a symbol for the Roman numeral X, which equals 10. The cross as painted in the icon is very strange indeed, as it is a decorated two bar cross -- the top, "sign" bar is not present, but only the bar on which Christ's arms were stretched and the slanted footrest bar at the bottom. The cross appears to be a copy of one unique to Belarus -- surely not something St. Valentine would have been familiar with. My guess here is that the iconographer saw this two barred Belarusian cross somewhere and personally thought it would look nice in the icon, even though it is a very specific cross associated with Belarus, and in no way associated with St. Valentine, Rome, Roman numerals, or martyrdom. In iconography, while it is common to find martyrs holding crosses [the sign of martyrdom], it is not common to find martyrs holding specific crosses associated with specific historical eras or places. This too may indicate that the iconographer is not totally familiar with the elements of traditional iconography, for while St. Valentine should be painted holding a cross, why he is holding a uniquely Belarusian cross is very odd. In any instance, it is not an X, unless one eliminates one of the bars. The interpreter seems to overlook the fact that the cross has two bars, not one, which does not form an X by any stretch.

The hands are formed in the same manner that the blessing is imparted today -- the fingers forming the letters ICXC, the abbreviation for "Jesus" and "Christ" in Greek. Obviously the interpreter is completely unfamiliar with this, thereby leading him to offer his own personal interpretation, which of course is incorrect.

Obviously, the interpreter's interpretation is utterly wrong and misleading. But I do have to say that the iconography is also not exactly traditional and was obviously done by a painter of little experience, as an experienced iconographer would not include elements, such as the vestments and two barred cross, that are foreign to such an icon. So, while the interpreter certainly misleads the viewer with his odd interpretations, so too the iconographer also misleads the viewer by including elements that would traditionally not be seen in such an icon as well. Hence one can make a case for appropriate iconography -- that one who paints icons should be thoroughly familiar with what is appropriate and what isn't. The interpreter's interpretation is obviously incorrect, yet the iconographer's portrayal is also not exactly correct, according to iconographic style. This, of course, does not make the interpreter's interpretation correct, but his bad interpretations also may, in part, be the product of improper iconographic elements.”

I tried to contact Brother Nathaniel as well as some Orthodox presbyters in Australia on the issue as well and this was the only reply I got. As it is always good to get different perspectives on issues like this. But I guess I am not surprised as this book was written to show how difficult it is to talk to people on various issues regardless of donations, dedication and being sympathetic. I am sure we are capable of talking about various issues just as Jesus Christ used many parables to convey ideas to his disciples on the morals of life. Anyway, I am very appreciative of the priest's reply because I am confident with what he said is true and it's very scholarly and detailed look into all the issues regarding this icon. No wonder Chris is wrong if the icon itself is out of the ordinary! Iconographers (people who make icons) is a very important profession and part of Orthodox as a whole. There are fairly strict guidelines in how they are made and even the conditions that are undertaken and the diet of the individual! From the time when I viewed Chris's video two people from the Orthodox community made refuted his fruitless attempts to cast a negative light on the Orthodox. I thought I would add one comment which brings the point home:

“The halo and the cross on the hat show his holy demeanor and importance to the church. The cross in his hand at a tilt shows his faith but his human inability to be perfect”⁷⁹

This comment has the essence of my reply from presbyter was saying all along. Of course Christians always have to be careful with imagery being inline with God and to be careful of wolves in sheep's clothing that teach various doctrines against the Christian faith.

⁷⁹ Message truncated.

From my experience from Texe Marrs and other passionate Christians, it is my belief people who bring out videos to denounce icons usually do not hold that faith to a high regard and view it as a heretical version of Christianity. Texe gives his audience the reasons for the heretical Catholicism is due to Jewish infiltration and the New World Order.

TED PIKE

This section was probably one of the most difficult for me for me because of the tragedy involved and my lack of spirituality in my life. So I don't claim to be saint or someone special and it might disappoint people, but I am being front on about it. However, I am not a pastor and a pastor is someone whom you trust. And I know what the Bible says on many issues for example, people who lead are judged more than those who are the sheep. It says in James 3:1 "Not many of you should presume to be teachers, my brothers, because you know that we who teach will be judged more strictly." Everyone gets judged by God though and Paul warned the disciples not to say who will go up into heaven or into Gehenna.⁸⁰

One of the most tragic things that has recently struck the alternative media is the death of his wife Alynn. On 6 December 2011, his wife suicide by jumping off the Portland bridge in Origen. The reason for this is Satanic possession.^{81, 82} Ted, didn't give her enough love she needed, but left her isolated with this condition for years and should have done a lot more to save her from this literal demonic encounter! Doesn't Ted realize that the Lord God is more powerful than Satan? Did he ever think about praying for her and supporting her? Even Jesus said in the Bible explained to the disciples the reason why they could expel the demon in Matthew 17:14 was because they had so little faith. Now, only God knows the full story of the spirituality of Ted and Alynn, but I know that prayer and fasting was important to the early church and that when appointing new presbyters, this practice was done to protect them.⁸³ We should never think Satan is more powerful than God. Ted is suppose to be

⁸⁰ Romans 10:6

⁸¹ http://www.henrymakow.com/allyn_pike.html "Rev. Ted Pike & Wife Battle Satanic Forces." A word of warning. It's a pretty horrific account of what happened to this woman. It's one of the most spine-tingling things I've ever read!

⁸² http://www.henrymakow.com/ted_pike_-_a_critical_view.html "A Christian's critical point of view:"

⁸³ Acts 14:23.

a Christian pastor, he should know what to do. He is known for being conservative and a freedom fighter for Christians. I am angry at Ted Pike, but also at the same time I feel a deep sadness for both and — a woman who struggled with demons for years; did not get help.

We go to physicians because we need need help to make us feel better. But sometimes we forget that physicians themselves actually get sick too and when this happens, they have to be treated by someone else! Did Ted Pike ever consider this? Getting a pastor that knew and identified with his conservative style of Christianity, or even getting help from a more mainstream pastor, because we have to think outside the box. It's all neutral territory but it's all for the sake of saving those who are servants of God.

When I think about this tragedy, I am gobsmacked to find out about the kind of statues he keeps in his house! Personally, I have no problems with Christian statues or icons,⁸⁴ but we have to be consciously aware of those which can cause spiritual harm and have unknown or spurious origins.

(See “unusual objects” left.)

I truly believe if you have something wicked in your home and you are being attacked by the devil and his demons and you have demonic things in your house, this would not help your spiritual connection with God. But if you want to know what the problem is, in this modern world today a lot of people don't realize that Satan the devil is a real being! Even so-called Christian pastors do not spend enough time telling their flock of the reality of this ultimate beast against humanity. Some “Christians” like the Christadelphians believe that the devil is metaphor and it's just the evil within you! People will run 6,000 k's rather than mention the word Satan! Even though It's something I've really noticed, Christians treat him like as if he is not existent and it seems to me it's more power you are giving him, because you fear him. But Jesus told Satan “away from me Satan,” when shown all the kingdoms of the world at the start of the gospel. “...he rebuked Peter. Get behind me, Satan!” he said. “You do not have in mind the things of God, but the things of men.” If you really want to say who controls the world and you are Christian, it’s not the Jews, Freemasons, Catholics, Rockefellers, it’s Satan himself controlling these groups as a mechanism for controlling the world. It’s Satan plunging the world into darkness and destroying nations and all these endless wars, it’s Satan setting up the global currency, it’s Satan behind the idea of feminism and destroying the family, it is Satan causing the divisions in the alternative media! If you are a Christian, you should know these things and denounce Satan, and put on the armor of God,⁸⁵ “Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind”; and, ‘Love your neighbor as yourself.’”⁸⁶ But to bring all this together, we also got to know that Jesus Christ is above every name!⁸⁷ So God is more powerful than Satan and we got to put Satan in his place!

⁸⁴ I am very well aware that people in the alt. media would by quick to criticize me on my religious opinions. But please be reminded of the absurd things like the unwavering loyalty to things like the King James Bible (God didn't write it but was copied from older texts just like any other Bible. No originals exists...)

INTERNET CENSORSHIP

Increasingly, there are increasing threats to freedom of what we say or do online. Thank goodness for grass roots organizations, who are just ordinary people trying to save our freedom online like Demand Progress and Fight For the Future — even the man who invented the Internet Tim Berners-Lee has spoken out against Internet censorship. He said it goes against the original purpose of the Internet.⁸⁸ Good on him for speaking out about it indeed! They are quite vigilant about fighting for our freedoms. Bills yet to be passed through congress like CISPA (Cyber Intelligence Sharing and Protection Act) and SOPA (Stop Online Piracy ACT) which are suppose to be there for our safety and to stop child pornography. Sure a lot of people would love pedophiles incarcerated, but this is just a smokescreen for something bigger: destroy freedom of speech. It’s like with so-called environmentalists like David Rothschild and Al Gore who tried to scare the world into the world is going through “global warming” now call it climate change, because there has been just as much freezing temperatures as there has been hot temperatures. It just looked so wrong and they were proved wrong and exposed by the Climate Gate Scandal which showed these Climate Change propagandists as fudging the figures. And so, a lot of people know that by censoring the Internet like how it is in China, it’s all about taking away people’s freedoms in coded language. Barack Obama has even thought of shutting down the Internet. He calls it the Internet Kill Switch! (Please read on.) But ⁸⁵ Ephesians 6:13.

⁸⁶ Luke 10:27.

⁸⁷ Philippians 2:9.

⁸⁸ April 2012 BBC (via ABC News Radio.)

according to emails Demand Progress, he has threatened to veto the CISPA act.⁸⁹ I don't know why he has had a change of heart? I don't know everything Barack Obama does. Obvious questions get raised of this topic like why is that the American congress and business lobby groups have a say on what goes on in the whole world for the Internet? How arrogant! Unfortunately a lot of the world's traffic goes through America and they are taking advantage of that. Websites like Wikipedia, Amazon, Facebook are ALL based in America, and the whole world uses those sites. [Note: CISPA is actually more deadly than SOPA because it affects individual rights. SOPA didn't work because it went against sites like the ones I mentioned.] I remember Texe Marrs a couple of years ago making the remark saying that his website would be one of the first to go if any of these bill were introduced; and how right he is. Because it's all about putting a hush on people's opinions and those who see the world differently than we would through corporate media giants like Fox news, who have already been proven that they spy on people to squelch competition. Rupert Murdoch and his son James were called to trial in the very public Leveson Inquiry.

But don't be fooled, Who are behind it? Barack Obama administration,⁹⁰ and people like (surprise! surprise!) David Rockefeller who have been caught saying on C-Span he wish the Internet wasn't invented! He just can't handle people exposing him online — I despise this notion that somehow the Internet is responsible for everything. Like those mantras “don't believe everything you read on the Internet.” ...Yeah, I certainly don't believe everything I see on the old television or newspapers either that require a nihil obstat-like approval before things are screened or published!

Reporter for Infowars, Steve Watson stated in article Government Surveillance Crackdown On Internet Goes Into Overdrive that there would be customs checks on data entering and leaving the United States.⁹¹ The reason being is to stop China from stealing classified information and intellectual property (inventions.) China is obviously a big threat to the world in more ways than one, with buying up the Caribbean, to their Maritime Border dispute in South East Asia and their putting up their national flag in Australian Antarctica. 90% of software in China is pirated and so ⁸⁹ “President Obama issued a veto threat late yesterday. But we're not done yet: We need to keep up the pressure on Congress as they get ready to vote on Friday.

Please ask your friends to urge Obama to stand strong and to email their lawmakers to ask them to vote against CISPA.” Email from Demand Progress 27th April 2012.

⁹⁰ If it was George Bush's administration still in power they would just blame him alone of course, because he's white, despite what a disaster he was.

⁹¹ <http://www.infowars.com/government-surveillance-crackdown-on-internet-goes-into-overdrive/> “Government Surveillance Crackdown On Internet Goes Into Overdrive.”

it begs the question, why not punish China instead of punishing the whole world? Why does America dictate decisions relating to what happens in cyberspace which people are relying on more and more in their daily lives? Unfortunately, there is this group think with lobbyists groups who only think of crushing ordinary people by stripping their freedoms more and more. It is typically Orwellian and New World Order like. It's the Satanic Illuminati at it's best. Instead of dealing with problems responsibly, it's much better to imprison people, almost like at Guantanamo Bay which should be closed down. But just as communism and capitalism are much the same thing, the upper echelons of society like Rockefeller's and Rothschild love what China is doing and if they steal technology, well who cares. We are being fooled all the time. Even e-books are becoming more expensive, even though there are no distribution costs. Buying off iTunes is more expensive. If it's a new album, one song costs $2.19 whereas in America it would be at least $1 cheaper, even though the Australian dollar is roughly equal to the American currency.

THE KING JAMES VERSION

Many people in from various quarters regard including the kinds of people I criticize treat this Bible version as a supreme and can't be challenged, like it was handed down from God like Moses and his ten commandments⁹² and any other versions must be faulty, not to be trusted, or "new age." Yes, I am not exaggerating or trying to be a sensationalist, he does actually use that term! There are various reasons why they hate other versions. The word "hate" is not an exaggerated verb by any means. When commenting on the Codex Sinaiticus now being online, Texe said it belongs in the trash. However, all I've thought about the King James Bible is that it belongs in a museum perhaps. See the difference in attitude? When I've think of his beloved translation, I love it, it's great, it's historical, even The Weekend Australian Review⁹³ wrote a piece about it with a huge picture of King James I himself on the front cover, in color as well! It was THE BIBLE for so many centuries and still lingers on today. It's had a profound influence on Christendom, was one of those only few Bibles to be used by the churches (besides the Douay Rheims version for Catholics) and even on the English language itself. I mean consider it's alternative name "Authorized Version." It's official, it's got the approval of church authorities.

But what are the problems of the King James? Brian Wilshire (an atheist) wrote an intriguing book called Monday School (obviously a parody of Sunday school.) Although not from his book, a very thorough website bible.ca, gives a list of some of the absurd blunders from that version. There are so many things that I could list that are too numerous to mention. Look at the following chart and see the article yourself for more information.⁹⁴

⁹² A more literal translation would be "ten words."

⁹³ March 5-6 2011 edition.

Errors where the KJV translation disagrees with the Textus Receptus:

KJV translates...	Textus Receptus actually says...
"robbers of churches." Acts 19:37	Every known Greek manuscript has HIEROSULOUS, "robbers of temples"
"Lucifer" Is 14:12	"O Day Star" (Lucifer is a human origin nickname for the Devil in the 1600's refers not to the devil but the king of Babylon)
"Easter" Acts 12:4	"Passover" (Easter very poor choice as it confuses the pagan origin Roman Catholic "Easter" holy day with what the TR clearly says is the Jewish Passover!)
"Baptism" (entire New Testament) Acts 2:38; 22:16	immersion, because sprinkling was the mode of baptism in 1611AD, they jelly-fished out and transliterated the Greek "baptizo" but refused to translate it.
"Tithes of all I possess" Lk 18:12	"all I acquire" (Not only variant with the TR, but quite wrong. Tithes were never paid on capital, only increase)
"Schoolmaster" Gal 3:24	"attendant" (the law was the one who brought us to Christ, not taught us about Christ)
"God save the King": 1Sam 10:24, 2Sam 16:16, 1Kings 1:25	"May the king live" ("God" not in TR, but reflects the British culture of the 1600's. Proof that the translators used dynamic equivalents.)
"God Forbid." Ro. 3:4,6,31; 6:2,15; 7:7,13; 9:14; 11:1,11; 1 Co. 6:15; Ga. 2:17; 3:21; 6:14	"may it not be" or "let it not be." (KJV adds the word God where it is absent in the TR because it was a common expression in 1600's. Proof that the translators used dynamic equivalents.)
"sweet savour" Lev 6:21; 8:28; 17:6; 23:18	"soothing aroma" (KJV appeals to wrong senses- taste instead of smell in the TR)
"ashes upon his face" 1 Kings 20:38	"bandage over his eyes" (KJV varies from TR by using ashes)
"flagon" 2 Sam 6:19; 1 Chron 16:3; SoS 2:5; Hosea 3:1	These verses contain the word "flagon" which is a fluted cup from which liquid is drunk. However, the Hebrew word is "ashishah" which has always meant raisins or raisin cakes. This is especially true in Hos 3:1 because raisin cakes were often offered to idols. This is an obvious error in translation.

There were various translations that paved the way that for the King James that just didn't get the same amount of respect that they should of. ...Kind of reminds me of Alex Jones a bit (ha ha.) The Geneva Bible was one of them. It didn't curtail to the king's bias. Actually THE REAL REASON for the King James's existence was to take out the footnotes that challenged King James's authority! As hard as that is to believe, that is the solemn truth. It actually goes further than that, where the KJV committee did not want to have footnotes at all.^{95,96} 20% of the KJV was plagiarized from the Geneva.⁹⁷

⁹⁴ <http://www.bible.ca/b-kjv-only.htm> "Were KJV Translators Inspired?"

There is nothing new about this supposed superiority of certain Bible translations. It was like that when work began on the Septuagint in the 3rd century BC. It was the King James of its day. For example, how can 70 people (the meaning of the word Septuagint) be in separate rooms and all have the exact same translation?⁹⁸ (Sounds familiar; like what Constance Cumbey accused Texe of doing!) The LXX⁹⁹ was a product of many centuries. And like the KJV, there are a number of editions for it. Technically the LXX was just the Pentateuch and later on became a project for all the books of the Old Testament.¹⁰⁰ The major manuscripts for the Septuagint are: Vaticanus, Sinaiticus, and Alexandrinus texts.

The KJV is identical to the Geneva as already stated, and originally it contained the Apocrypha as well; which was only under a temporary ban that lasted for roughly 100-140 years depending on whether you lived in Britain or the United States. In 1826 the British Bible Society decided to no longer print the Apocrypha, some decades later in 1880 the American Bible Society followed suit. However in 1964 the ABC included them again and in 1966 the British Bible society also took this action.¹⁰¹ So despite various peoples' long term debate over the Apocrypha (or deuterocanonical books,) they were long before the ban (and now) were apart of the Bible and so therefore the KJV that people hold dearly too, is not as original as what they think it is. So it's just another Bible translation. It's not so special as what they

⁹⁵ <http://www.gospelassemblyfree.com/facts/kingjames.htm> "Who was King James?"

⁹⁶ http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/King_James_Bible (see footnote 130 — Benson Bobrick "Wide as the waters: the story of the English Bible and the revolution it inspired.")

⁹⁷ <http://www.reformedreader.org/gbn/igb.htm> "An Introduction to the Geneva Bible."

⁹⁸ See footnote 75 of this book.

⁹⁹ Common abbreviation for Septuagint.

¹⁰⁰ See introduction to New English Translation of Septuagint (not to be confused with New English Translation — a non-denominational Protestant translation.

¹⁰¹ <http://www.examiner.com/bible-in-national/the-apocrypha-should-it-have-been-removed-from-the-king-james-version-video> "The Apocrypha' Should It Have Been Removed From the King James Version? (video.)"

[^] Howsam, Leslie (2002). Cheap Bibles. Cambridge University Press. p. 14. ISBN 0521522129, 9780521522120.

[^] A Brief History of the United Bible Societies
Sir Frederic G. Kenyon, Dictionary of the Bible edited by James Hastings, and published by Charles Scribner's Sons of New York in 1909 think it is. No Bible is. Not the Septuagint, Latin Vulgate or any other Bible translation.

NON-AMERICAN TRUTHERS?

One of the the worst things about the “truth movement” is where are all the non-American truthers, including from Australia? In reality there are just far too many people who are from America. [Note: Even non-American ones do not talk about what happens in their own country much at all!] We have Red Ice Radio from Sweden. David Icke is from England. I don’t know if I would call Julian Assange being alternative media, but he would have to be at least “one foot in and one foot out of it. He does encourage an alternative look at politics and trying to discover what really took place. He is currently being extradited to Sweden and pretty much you can say the US will put him away in a slammer for many years, eventually.¹⁰² On that point have pity on Bradley Manning (the man Julian initially got the leaked information from,) who was persecuted in the armed forces for his sexuality and is now in solitary confinement! Let’s hope that it doesn’t happen despite how some feel about these people. David Duke, for instance, is someone to have given the thumbs up to him at least in the past.

Maybe the reason for the lack of “truthers” is freedom of speech laws are fairly strict in Australia, but not as bad as say, Germany. So, some people come come from abroad to places like Australia, however America being the greatest place for freedom of speech (I guess there is one strong reason why there are so many of them originate from there. Even though people still get jailed from the alt. media over there. Freedom of speech is always lacking.) But also what about other countries like England who barely has a David Icke or even a Chris Constantine? David Icke is obviously brainy and has considerable knowledge of the Illuminati and has finally come out and admitted world Jewry are behind the New World Order.¹⁰³ I admire the Jew-only person, Michael Collins Piper who on a number of occasions has called it a Jewish utopia, because that is precisely what it is! “Let freedom ring!” The motto on his site.

Brian Wilshire, who recently celebrated his 30 odd years of his time on radio (staring in the late 1970s), with big posters displayed around Sydney, who has dominated the ¹⁰² One wonders how a man could generate so much attention from the authorities and the media when initially he relied on the leaked information from a persecuted man in the US armed forces, namely Bradley Manning, who is currently in solitary confinement!

¹⁰³ <http://www.davidicke.com/articles/political-manipulation-mainmenu-72/42734-they-dare-not-speak-its-name-rothschild-zionism> “They Dare Not Speak Its Name...”

rating for as long as I can remember, who was one of the first people to alert me about globalists. He was one of the most renowned people in the alternative media, despite being on a popular radio station like 2GB. He once questioned why he could not question the Jews (I can't remember what issue it was,) and invited their opinions on his talkback show; the most polite and non-threatening manner in the mid 2000's. (I think it was around about that era.) Since then his show has gone from 5 hours in the 1990s to 4, 3 and now 2 hours! If it's the LONG football (rugby) season, he is barely there. He has long been famous in Sydney for his "free for all" which was an obviously promotion of freedom of speech which he rightfully said is being chipped away. (I think he first said about our sovereignty was being chipped away at.) If his show is so popular, why have his hours diminished over the years? His show use to be controversial. He us to say things like "take the pollies¹⁰⁴ out to lunch,"¹⁰⁵ "I'll give you shares in the Harbour Bridge." But there is one oddity that has always been there with Brian. I mean, let me put it straight. His show is informative and has abundance of regular guests that appear on his show that helps out the general community like Russell Setright (Herbal specialist), Gary Algae (car salesman), Chip For Brains (computer help segment) or Alan Arid who is an eye specialist. But the oddity is Keith Suter who is a member of the Global Thinktank and the Club of Rome! When he's on, he dominates the show, and mostly disagrees with Brian. Recently he has increased in popularity, being on other radio shows such as 2UE (George and Paul,) and his regular appearances on Sunrise. Despite all of Brian's warnings of the New World Order and how our politicians sign various treaties like the Geneva Convention which destroyed the manufacturing industry, and the convention of Human Rights, how could he have someone on the show who is a member of the Club of Rome? Brian's response is that he likes to have people on and can disagree on things and he likes to have his input as something akin to being a fortune teller of sorts. He is a "political scientist" (of want of a better term) who gives his "insight" on global affairs and how things will pan out. Brian is entitled to have who he wants on, but should know and be consciously aware that the Club of Rome is not a good association, and is therefore part of the thousands of organizations that represent the New World Order and Illuminati and the secret societies that are not so secret these days. Sure his show is secretly not liked by the owner of the station John Singleton (who obviously has Illuminati links and who spoke out against patriot Dick Smith who wants a stop to immigration.¹⁰⁶) To be fair let's not just only accuse Brian ¹⁰⁴ le - Politicians. I am unsure how to spell this slang term. But it's pronounced like the woman's name Poly.

¹⁰⁵ Politicians who sell out Australia to globalists.

¹⁰⁶ Dick Smith use to own electronic store Dick Smith and later owned National Geographic and now owns Dick Smith Foods. In other words, he is an entrepreneur. In 2011 he appeared on Today Tonight an current affair show, with a debate between John Singleton and retailer giant Gerry Harvey and was subsequently demonized.

of having globalists traitors on his show, because Alex Jones interviewed the dreaded David Rothschild and has been known to interrupt protests against gun control and then subsequently deny it and blame it on Cointelpro. But before Brian's show became soft, it was good to know he made it known to callers about the terrific film Alex Jones brought out: Endgame — I have to give credit where it's due, he has a natural talent for documentary film making.

FEMINISM — A DEVIL OF ITS OWN!

It would be wrong to write this book and not mention feminism. This propaganda embedded disease in western countries is truly quite debilitating to men. Let me explain by mentioning Henry. To his credit, he is the only one that I know that extensively discusses the destructive nature of feminism. One man in Britain who dressed up as batman said it was easier to scale the walls of Buckingham Palace than it is to see his children! I know people personally who suffer it out for decades for child support — children they don't see and perhaps a change of hands who looks after the child! Not that the child support agency cares. If you don't see the child, obviously, why should you pay for the child? Henry Makow might understand this, but who else talks about it? I've emailed talkback presenters and one said to me that the feminism hangs in the balance the bane of existence of the continuation of our society! But we got to find the culprit. This is the dark reality, which mentioned before, which is social engineering by the Rockefeller family, a cruel hoax to women. To put women in the workforce to divide, conquer and kill the family, the real goal of re-engineering society. Did we ever stop to think of the population decrease in the west? Alex Jones (this time I will credit him as well) talks about how the Globalists want to shrink the population and indeed, the Georgia Guidestones (in various languages) tell of this, about a population of no more than 500 million! Yes, I would agree that there are too many people, but the way they want to depopulate planet earth is very subtle and evil. Through genetically modified food (poison unhealthy food — even basic foodstuffs are not made in Australia anymore, likely similar in other western countries,) vaccines, drugs, and (believe it or not) through viruses. Even Brian Wilshire quoted the Duke of Edinburgh (Prince Philip) as saying he would love to come back as a virus and wipe out the majority of humanity!

Think about the list of people who I mentioned at the start? They are virtually all married so maybe they don't care about feminism (except if they get divorced.) David Oldfield (a talkback¹⁰⁷ host) is aware of this problem, but most people who are well-known or not when they ARE divorced, do not make the mental connection of the evil of feminism. David IS married, but is forever labelled as a "racist." Even in a ¹⁰⁷ Talkback radio is called "talk radio" in America.

Google search on this man will reveal suggestion words like “racist.” I know, it’s absurd! [On a side note, in April 2012, he revealed a shocking fact: ONLY 4% OF WOMEN PUT A PRIORITY ON HAVING CHILDREN! “Strike me pink,” as what high rating Ray Hadley would say on his radio show on 2GB, when he gets shocked by something he really finds incredulous.] So maybe David ventures into controversial territory because he is damned no matter what he does. A bit like David Duke who is always reminded on talk shows that he was once a FORMER KKK leader. David Duke is always quick to point out others that have had a dark past who are in congress and at the White House, but which events are quickly glossed over or most of the time ignored. Let’s list those who deliberately ignore the evils of feminism:

- Texe Marrs (married)
- Alex Jones (married)
- Ellis Skolfield (married)
- David Icke (married)
- Jeff Rense.... (well, I think he is married or can be married) because after all, he does earn $450,000/year!¹⁰⁸

Henry (ah... he is not married. Perhaps that’s the reason why he is a stanch critique of feminism!?) has written extensively about the cruel hoax of feminism, the propaganda of International Women’s Day, how men are seen as mischievous little children who only want sex and don’t treat women right and so on. When I use to listen to Brian Wilshire, to be fair HE IS ALSO MARRIED and has criticized feminism. I was told by a friend of mine that he said that it’s ok for women to be elected in parliament, but we have to get women that are good. But a lot of these women are not complimentary of men, which is what he was getting at. He also launched an attack on forcing Bible translators to show God as a non-judgmental feminist! So credit to Brian absolutely!

The west is pretty much dead in some ways, so much so, that Henry was married to a Philipino¹⁰⁹ woman and talked about it in his book “A Long Way to Go for a Date.” He is now divorced and is bitter about it. Rightfully so, because regardless of the type of women we marry, whether they are from the Philippines or Russia and other Eastern European places, they all think they are entitled to their rights and are given videos before they enter the western country of choice about their rights and ¹⁰⁸ At the time of this writing the Australian currency is actually worth slightly more than US currency, so conversions do not matter to put into perspective for US currency.

¹⁰⁹ Or “Philipina” as they say in their community.

privileges. A lot of people may not be aware, but potentially a woman from overseas, can grab half of your superannuation (I don't know what it's called in other countries, but it's the retirement fund.) Even if we thought the money was to be untouched until retirement! Women can also steal half your earnings. All grabbed, snatched and taken just like the GST (general savings tax.) Go in court, the man has no rights, despite how logical he may present his case, despite how absurd the woman is, despite the lack of evidence of rape and being the victim of a violent assault.

EMPLOYMENT AND FORCIBLE UNEMPLOYMENT

For this section, please note: I genuinely believe people should work if they are able to. They should be treated with the right medicine (preferably alternative medicine) if they are not well to try to get them back in the workforce. If they are severely injured, or had a life time of health problems both physical and psychological, they shouldn't have to look at work. The government has got to be realistic if they're really aren't any jobs. There should be a hard look at mining billionaires, banks and other institutions who give jobs to foreigners rather than Aussies who need it, and the pressure should be on them and penalties applied; if they do not look after ordinary Australians!

I guess this topic could be connected with feminism because of the Rockefeller's push for women to enter the workforce, the amount of female newsreaders compared with men (in Australia). Even David Oldfield spoke to a man who used to be a teacher and left because he was the only teacher in the school besides the principal! He was told to leave because he is a man, he couldn't be seen doing swimming lessons with his students because he might be a pedophile! Unfortunately, I do not have much information on this and it wasn't posted on the 2UE website and my memory has faded. But I've been at the brunt of this myself working at hospital in Sydney's west.¹¹⁰ I was hated and hounded out of the hospital, because I was the only male there. I mean after all, I was just fill-in for maternity leave which they now get paid for in larger business organizations! Men have to change for women, but it never works the other way around! With the job that I had, it's too bitter memories to go into full detail at this moment in time. But it is pretty bad if I emotionally can't bring myself to talk about it. But I am sure Henry would understand about how evil feminism is.

But when applying for jobs, I can only speak for Australia, but there are so many processes involved in actually GETTING a job. In other words, red tape. I am sure it would be similar in the UK and perhaps the United States. It maybe obvious, but there should be more done to curb this problem to get people into work. It's something I've never heard any alternative media people say! I guess they are either retired or are on 6 figure salaries like Alex Jones or Jeff Rense! Brother Nathaniel just begs, begs, begs people for money at his site, even though he's a monk — why doesn't his Orthodox monk brothers help him out!? Anyway here's the process:¹¹¹

¹¹⁰ Not to be confused with Greater Western Sydney which the approximate start of GWS is from Auburn Municipality Council suburbs. Just in the last few years, due to the growth of Sydney, new divisions of have been demarcated for various reasons. Even Parramatta (in GWS) is now considered the center of Sydney.

1. Apply for job via a resume and letter (and send that online a thousand times to people)
2. The employer (most likely a job recruitment agency) will ring up on your mobile.
3. If they like you, they'll demand references from other people you've worked with in the past or people you know well!
4. You attend the Interview. A lot of the time there is usually more than one person. And usually the woman is more demanding than the man! Don't think women are nice and cuddly!
5. You get escorted out and then you MIGHT get a phone call (or email from them) that you are successful. If that happens....
6. they'll demand a phone reference of your friends or your previous workplace!
7. Cross your fingers if the references ACTUALLY say good things about you.
8. And then finally... you got the job.... at least for a little while IF you make the trial period.

I missed out some things purposely — if it's a white collar job, despite going to TAFE/College/University, you have to do endless typing tests and filling out many forms if it's a session of people who are going for a similar job! They don't even tell you this when you apply at times or it's not clear and it's so hard! How many times do we have to be tested in this life? When my mum was younger, everything was simple. If you went for your driving license, a police officer would just get you to drive your car around the block and then say you've got your license. When I got my license I had to read an RTA¹¹² handbook, get driving lessons, do a computer tests, get my L's (Learner) and then P's (Provisional) and now for young people they have an extra P. So when I finally got my license, it took about 2 years! Back in the old days my mum/dad just turned up at a job to ask if any was available. No references, no resumes or anything like that. Maybe just a phone call and then you just go and work and that's it! We are not better off than people were in the past despite all the latest gadgets that people have, because there are so many do's and don'ts, so much political red tape.

¹¹¹ This is taken from a typical white collar experience.

¹¹² Roads and Traffic Authority. Now called the RMS (Roads & Maritime Service.)

But my hostile experience with women, is just typical of what happens in workplaces these days: feminism, cultural sensitivities, multiculturalism, postman who can't turn up in post offices without taking off his helmet, even if Muslims can wear veils or niqabs, positive discrimination (meaning giving a job to a non-white because they are "disadvantaged") And if you are "too slow" you are shown the door (if you are a white male of course.) If you are a white woman, you might get a second chance because of secondary sexual features! But long term I think white women are used. Even if it's not obvious for them yet or the general white community which is currently going through a massive ethnic cleansing and persecution. [On a side note: No joke — when looking for a job, I was told BY A MUSLIM, because I had a beard that I could not apply for jobs that involved food preparation — EVEN THOUGH HE HAD A BEARD HIMSELF! EVEN THOUGH HIS RELIGION ENCOURAGES BEARDS! HOW INSULTING!]

David Oldfield said in March 2012 that the real unemployed figure is around 20%. So similar to the American situation. [Consider this: The world's unemployment figure is over 200 million unemployed!¹¹³ CIA "world factbook statistics" would likely differ (most likely higher.) But as the article states, no wonder they are worried about economic problems and social unrest!] Some people think that people who study at universities, TAFE,¹¹⁴ collages are the hidden unemployed because after all, they aren't working and a lot of people, perhaps up to two-thirds, do not get the job in the field of their study anyway. No wonder there are so many unemployed, if there wasn't a mining boom in WA,¹¹⁵ there would be more people unemployed. Of course there is the mantra of government of the much disliked Julia Gillard¹¹⁶ (or whichever puppet government is in power) that they want skilled migrants. Even billionaire Gina Rinehart who is involved with mining and now is a board member of Network 10. She would rather employ people from overseas rather than employ locals!¹¹⁷ Of course it's always overseas people we're more concerned about. Whether it's a doctor from India, or a boat person which David Oldfield describes as country shopping due to the amount of countries they didn't apply for asylum to, who are given preferential

¹¹³ <http://www.dailytelegraph.com.au/business/m-unemployed-in-2012-ilo/story-fn7ki14e-1226342473708>
"202m Unemployed in 2012: ILO"

¹¹⁴ Technical and Further Education (government owned collage.)

¹¹⁵ Western Australia.

¹¹⁶ Which was voted in only as a minority government!

¹¹⁷ <http://au.finance.yahoo.com/news/rineharts-migrant-worker-push-faces-113014756.html> "Rinehart's migrant worker push faces rebellion" treatment and we have to let them in because of the UN Convention of Refugees,¹¹⁸ which is very central to the Illuminati New World Order Δ. Just as David Oldfield has said, look at all the countries they skip to come to Australia. If they are from Iraq, they pass so many countries. They don't go to fellow Arab countries, they don't go near to Pakistan, Thailand, Indonesia and they come all the way here to Australia. Such a dangerous journey they take on rickety ships and enemy nations turn a blind eye to evil and pass them here. There are people on the streets that need housing that are on 10 year waiting lists, 100's of thousands of homeless Australians, while we give foreign aid to overseas countries such as Papua New Guinea, Thailand even powerful nations like China, but we bring in so many people either via plane or much less admittedly by boat who throw their passports in the water and throw babies off board or whatever trick they are up to next. But the postman still has to take off his helmet when entering a building because he might be seen as a terrorist!

While working as a non-profit organization, when I was more ignorant, but when I due to various circumstances I had to work at newly arrived resource center for migrants, I encountered things that contradicted government policy. If I talk about one of those things such as the citizenship test. Under the John Howard government, he brought in the idea of a citizenship test, which is the basic knowledge about Australia, ranging from who was the first Prime Minister, population, major religion, sports figures and scientists, etc. I remember the whinging and carrying on of immigrant communities who complained it was too hard or that the average Australian may not know such questions! But what the average Australians like me? Many Australians spent 10-12 years in school + TAFE/College/University and got tested on such trivia many times over and on more thorough things to boot. What's the problem? They have access to Centrelink¹¹⁹ in their language! But did I encounter when working temporarily with newly-arrived migrants? Without any conscience and discussion, migrants sitting through practicing the Migrant Citizenship test! The mainstream media, lead Australians to believe that they would read a handbook and when ready, apply for the rest, but in actuality fact they sit through the test many times! When I went for my license, I worked hard for it. I paid money to driving instructors, I spent hours on this and I spent so much time reading the RTA handbook, while immigrants are giving the key to the city in comparison.

You'd think with the Global Financial Crisis (which is commonly addressed as the GFC,) that people would be more understanding on the unemployed. With the mortgage crisis that plagued America, to those who were in the Occupy Wall Street protests who rightfully protested against the greed in the hyper capitalist system in America with Wall Street and the US government working hand-in-hand, people in the media have not changed with their opinion of the unemployed. There are still many people out there, even with the threat of the carbon tax and a steep increase in petrol, electricity and water there is this snobbery, heartless attacks against the unemployed. Thinking that people on welfare have a great time with their Job Network providers and going into Centrelink and holding their heads in shame and not seeing the jobs go to them. I know this because I know people who have been unemployed. I am concerned for my own countryman's affairs. They tell me the fears of being breached, they tell me about doing work for the dole, and endless talk sessions and doing short courses and thereby never getting anywhere. Today Tonight and A Current Affair virtually every week attack the unemployed and deliberate interview stereotyped individuals that by myth make all unemployed people look bad. They won't mean the genuine unemployed. Those who whether young or old have lost their job because it's gone off shore to China or India and no fault of their own and the competing with the government's mantra of skilled migrants who consequently take jobs from locals. So we have to remind ourselves to see the immigrants take the jobs is bad but it's not really them. They are the scapegoat, but it's really terrible government policy and big business who refuse to train and employ locals. Brain Wilshire has long said about big businesses desire to bring down wages and so people who earn very little, and I add to that are like the old woman in the temple in the time of Jesus; who gave out of all she had to live on. Thus, the migrants come in because anything is better than their country and we just fall by the wayside as a nation.

¹¹⁸ ie — Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees.

¹¹⁹ Government welfare organization for the unemployed.

Ever since 1990, the amount that is given to people on unemployment benefits has remained stagnant.¹²⁰ It has not been indexed for inflation. The only organization that realizes this problem is the Australian Council of Social Services. So those who have recently been unemployed are hit hard because they suddenly feel poverty and may have still had a mortgage or just been divorced, and if they don't get a job soon, quickly go into poverty. More and more Australians turn up to soup kitchens and turn up to second-hand stores to buy goods like the Smith family.

Is Paris Hilton or Kim Kardashian unemployed people? They certainly seem like it, because they parade in the daytime and show off their clothes and attend various social functions and hangout with the rich and party or whatever. They don't need to drive because they have more money and sense and therefore get someone else to drive for them! But because their money endless, they don't have to turn up to Jobnetwork centres, they don't have to answer to anyone and society leaves them alone. but they are like the glorified unemployed. Prince William and Prince Harry in the British royal family are glorified nobodies who just one the genetic lottery of being born in a superrich family. Walking around in the daytime as a ordinary, genuinely unemployed person and you people say you are a dole bludger like as if they know everything about you and pigeon hole you. But on a small scale when I think of 702 ABC (a government owned talkback station) with those like Richard Glover or James Valentine¹²¹ they are also glorified unemployed people. Whether they rate well or not, like the Reserve Bank, they don't lose their jobs. Everything is fine when you work for a marxist, communist tax payer funded station. Brian said on his show how everything is kept inline, because calls are heavily filtered to keep it warm and fuzzily communist. However, 2GB and 2UE have to worry about ratings because how do they make money?

¹²⁰ As of April 2012, per week unemployed recipients get approximately $250/week. Due to the high cost of living (Sydney is one of the most expensive in the world) there are small rent allowances given to help with the rent.

How bad do things have to get before people understand those who are unemployed? Maybe when the middle class is destroyed and there are only those who are super rich or poor, just maybe then people will understand. But then it will be a criminal state like South Africa and Brazil with the more affluent living behind gated communities, while the rest of us beg. The alternative media need to see this. Shame on Jeff Rense for begging for money or any of them boast about their former life in the airforce like Texe but then beg upon their audience. I am quite emphatic when I say this, but most people who are unemployed are genuinely unemployed.

There is a big secret about big business and the unemployed and certain members of the community refuse to admit to it. Do you know what it is? Secretly, big business WANTS there to be unemployed people! You might be shocked and some obviously wouldn't. But employers can use their muscle to demand the conditions, and the amount they pay their employees. And if they don't like it, guess what? They can employ someone who IS unemployed! Just imagine a bricklayer working overtime and not getting paid for it? An employer can just say "right, if you don't like it, you can get a job elsewhere. I'll just employ some bum to work for me instead!" They can employ fruit pickers from Fiji if they want to as well and deliberate lie and say that Aussies do not want to work! Please be careful about watching too much TV, because so much of it is propaganda and anti the nation of Australia and all that is suppose to mean. In my life, I think about the jobs that white Australians take. They take the hardest: they are the truck drivers, bricklayers, the police on the street and lay the tar on the roads, or pick up rubbish on pick up days. At least until now, most farmers are white. At least the ones that are not owned by Chinese or Swiss or Americans or Koreans, etc. But obviously there is another reason they like to have unemployed, is a physiological one in which I have gone into. They've always got to have someone to bully so they can make themselves feel good and proud. It's like the shadow government that controls America. If there is no war, make one. Thank God there are great politicians in this world that actually want peace like Ron Paul. Commonly, the US is referred to as the world's policemen. But they want to make sure there is no peace in the world.¹²²

¹²¹ Last year James Valentine revealed "Valentine" is an Anglicized Jewish name.

America is probably the only country in the world where there is no Medicare. I know for a fact if they dropped medicare tomorrow in Australia, people would be extremely upset and it would be a voting disaster for whatever government was in power. But well-off Australians who do pay for private health insurance or have a private GP, rely more on Medicare than what they would have you believe. Health insurances companies like BUPA is half funded by Medicare, so it's massively funded by tax payers — rich, poor and unemployed because everything we buy from computers, fridges, a packet of chips has hidden GST costs. Not everything but a lot of it is. When someone with private health cover goes to see the doctor it's 85% medicare. When they go to the hospital it's 75%. No joke, the Medicare budget is huge and that is why when the Howard government was in power, he tried to encourage as many people as possible to buy health insurance. But it's not just health that costs a fortune, it's paying for religious institutions like the Catholic Church schools, churches, mosques and Islamic and Jewish schools. If you are not Catholic, if you are not Islamic, why should you have to pay for it? Being Catholic or Muslim is not a requirement in the Australian constitution! But we live in such a marxist/communist country (just like many white/European countries,) that just have to fund everything these days. Just like America has to fund Israel, or we have to fund Indonesian, Papua New Guinea or even fund to preserve temples in Cambodia, yep, it comes from the Australian tax payer, to "level" with the 3rd world. Even today it was reported an "Australian man" of Sri Lankan origin has been kidnapped by trying to get involved with the People's Struggle Movement.¹²³ His daughter said "he loves his country..." But what about loving the country he adopted: Australia! And that costs a lot of money to go and rescue someone and use foreign diplomats to try to "ease" the situation.

IS A DISASTER YET TO HAPPEN AND CONSEQUENTLY FALL UPON US?

¹²² I like the common American people and their culture, but there is a big gulf between the US government and the people.

¹²³ <http://www.abc.net.au/news/2012-04-09/australian-man-missing-in-sri-lanka/3938688> "Australian man feared taken by 'secret police'"

[PRELUDE: Truth movement brings hatred towards the west? To be honest with you, I did not know where else to put this, so I just thought it was best to put it here, as I could not decide. I guess this is like a cousin of the other section regarding “David Livingstone’s Attack On Christianity and Western Civilization” section.

When I’ve read truth sites, one of the things that alarms me, is the attention paid to the “west.” Of course if anything evil happens, it has to be the “west’s fault.” Even a comment I saw on youtube, a Muslim from Indonesia, equating the NWO, the West and Christianity as a conglomerate group to blame for all the evils happening in the Middle East! Of course Islamic countries can never take responsibility to anything that happens. If it’s secret societies or agencies it’s CIA or MI5,¹²⁴ I was reading up on the BBC in Pakistan, and they have their own called Inter-services Intelligence which is commonly held in suspicion for big brother-like activities by India’s citizens. "In India we joke about this... if anything goes wrong... we say the ISI must be behind this."¹²⁵ This maybe true, and of course it’s realistic to be suspicious of local intelligence networks, I wonder what will have to anything “western.” Because consider quite desperate situations like Islamic-dominated Egypt where local Christian parishes are not even allowed to repair their churches without asking permission by the Islamic government.]

This section touches on race and the modern Chinese colonialism and the clearly obvious decline of the white race. Lately, I have become more racially aware of my white European heritage and so therefore another book maybe written to talk about the many issues confronting the white race. But I thought it would be best to talk about this topic at least a little bit. With the globalist media who say it’s taboo and when it shouldn’t be; and clearly white people are severely diminishing in numbers around the world — Even an alien from out of space could tell you that! Even more so, the UN talks about the deliberate genocide of any race. Wikipedia quotes this crime against humanity: “Genocide is defined as "the deliberate and systematic destruction, in whole or in part, of an ethnic, racial, religious, or national group,” which is actually a quote from T Marcus Funk.¹²⁶ So, one wonders why is this allowed to happen wholesale to white European countries which is currently right now? Maybe all white countries are like those who perished in the Armenian, Assyrian and Greek genocides of the late 19th to the early 20th century. But as indicated, if possible these issues could take up a whole book, in which at this present time; if I am not sure if I will write it? Regardless, please look at the “recommended reading” section at the end of this book which I recommend on a range of issues like the white race, Islam, immigration, etc.

¹²⁴ Australia’s counterpart is ASIO.

¹²⁵ <http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/world-asia-india-16030931> “Veena Malik sues FHM India magazine over 'nude' photo“

¹²⁶ See generally Funk, T. Marcus (2010). Victims' Rights and Advocacy at the International Criminal Court. Oxford, England: Oxford University Press.

With all this talk on world Jewry and the truth movement being totally unaware of religions/cultures filling the vacuum like Islam or Sino-Asian cultures (particularly Chinese), I wonder what will happen if and once Zionism is defeated? I am well aware people are waking up the fact of the Jewish Utopia (or New World Order) and realize what’s been done to all the races of the world, particularly the white race, but is that enough just to defeat Zionism? Maybe change is on the horizon but we have forgotten other horrors like the Ottoman Empire (one of many global(ist?) caliphates, Muslim Spain or Greece which lasted for centuries. How could we ever forget that? And what about those who are of Vietnamese decent — how could they forget the fact that their culture was dominated and taken over by Han Chinese culture for approximately 1000 years? I know for a fact that bitterness runs deep in the Vietnamese and no how out of control the Chinese can be. And I believe despite the Jews giving the Chinese communism, that the rule of the Chinese happened because of the evil of the Chinese themselves. This is not to say all Chinese are bad but their maritime border disputes causes deep resentment in south east Asia like Vietnam or the Philippines, who have a right to their national identity, and have the right to defend their maritime borders; just like traditional land borders. With seeing what the Jews have done to the west, I wonder as a western person just how the Far East Asian cultures feel about the heavy influence of Chinese in countries like Thailand and Burma; where the prime ministers are Chinese and not the indigenous inhabitant of the countries that make these exotic and influential cultures? The current prime minister of Thailand, Yingluck Shinawatra great grandfather was Chinese.¹²⁷ That might sound remote, but consider her predecessor IS ethnically Chinese.¹²⁸ Across the border in Burma and guess what? The Burmese Prime Minister is also (according to Wikipedia) of Chinese decent.¹²⁹ Are the Chinese “the Jews of Asia?” We have to have our eyes open to all “supremacy groups” who want to laud it over other nationalities who have a right to control their countries that they built up! [Side note: And how is it that one of the most powerful nations on earth gets $28 million

¹²⁷ Current wikipedia edit says “Yingluck's great-grandfather, Seng Saekhu, was a overseas Chinese from Guangdong who arrived in Siam in the 1860s and settled in Chiang Mai in 1908.”

¹²⁸ [^] "Profile: Abhisit Vejjajiva". BBC News. 17 March 2010.

[^] [\[1\]](#)

[^] "Vejjajiva ancestry revealed". The Nation. 31 July 2011. Retrieved 10 November 2011.

¹²⁹ http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Thein_Sein from Australia! David Oldfield brought up this issue (1 May 2012) to a representative of a very left wing group called Get Up; who loves to give away Australia's wealth to "needy nations." Clearly China isn't one! Now, that's food for thought!]

With all these issues, one cannot but help think about the future of the white race. I have heard people like David Duke (who is thoroughly sympathetic towards Palestinians) who has often said "we're all Palestinians now," meaning that all races are in peril due to multiculturalism or the Globalists defining who the terrorists states are like Iran or Palestine. Sometimes I think David Duke says that too much about this sort of thing and should spend more time looking at the broader picture. I could also say that about John Hagee being too defensive of Israelis and licking the boots of every prominent Rabbi or Prime Minister he meets. Like what about the desperate situation in Tibet and the long exiled spiritual leader, the Dalai Lama, in India? There are many persecuted Christians through out the Middle East, as discussed in this book, I went over the severity of the protests of Mubarak, the bombs going off in churches. Even a foreign American journalist, Lara Logan, was raped by 2-300 men.¹³⁰ But this kind of stuff, of course doesn't make the alternative press. Many people feel sorry at the situation the Palestinians go through, but I can't think of one vocal group that is sympathetic towards whites. I am not saying we shouldn't be sympathetic when I think about all these groups I mentioned, but when it comes to whites, we are demonized by the whole world.

But what's my point? David Duke said something quite amazing early this year about the right of every race to their own self determination — whites, blacks, Jews, Asians — every race. David Duke brings out many videos highlighting the hypocrisy of Israel and the protection of Israeli people, but not any other race. But now to the point. Like Texe Marrs, he quoted Acts 17:26 about every nation coming from "one blood," but he highlighted the face that part b of that verse is rarely even quoted. Texe Marrs also falls into that trap. Here is that particularly verse IN FULL. Please read it carefully about what it means and don't be plunged into political correctness:

“From one man¹³¹ he made every nation of the human race to inhabit the entire earth, determining their set times and the fixed limits of the places where they would live”¹³²

¹³⁰ <http://www.whatsonsanya.com/news-16038-us-journalist-lara-logan-hand-raped-by-200-300-men-in-tahrir-square.html> "US Journalist Lara Logan 'hand raped by 200-300 men in Tahrir Square."

¹³¹ Some manuscripts read "one blood."

¹³² NET Bible

This would have to be one of the most important but often neglected Scriptures in the Bible. I would even go as far as to say rarely understood, because our Christian leaders don't tell us these things; perhaps because they are scared to talk about anything to do with race. But why should we? The Bible clearly supports the rights of every race in the planet, to have their own country and self determination. I applaud David Duke for highlighting this verse because I've read the entire book of Acts and never really took much notice of it. What it goes to show is that it's sure good to read and the Bible and think for yourself and not have a pastor or priest dictate to you what it means. Also, this verse is from the most criticized man of the Bible — the Apostle Paul, or Saint Paul.

David Duke has also talked about the past glory of Great Britain and how it's no longer great. Increasingly most people would be forced to agree with him. With the riots that started in North London that engulfed a large part of England (not kidding!) to the insistency of putting more ethnic people (they won't be ethnic for much longer) in the English police force even upper management. Too many white people in the force, according to the likes of Keith Vaz (Commons Home Affairs Select Committee, a man of Indian origin [and yes born in India]) who was quoted as saying in the BBC that "the force" didn't have "sufficient black and Asian officers."¹³³ To be fair just as there is white hatred, there are also white traitors like other MP's like Mark Reckless who also agrees on the genocide of whites by saying in this same article "It's quite wrong that we don't have any ethnic minorities at senior level." One would call it racism if anyone dared challenge it in a non-white country. In England however, everything to do with people of color is to do with keeping in line with "cultural sensitivities." I could go on and on but again, it would require another book. And where are the feminists against the misogynistic Islam? This was not was what this book was about and maybe discussed in a future book.

On a final note, I just hope the alternative media will re-think their policies of what they deem acceptable and talk about major events like the Illuminati, but relate to what communities go through everyday like multiculturalism, Islam, feminism etc. Keep the alternative media open-shop. That's why I wrote this book and I don't know whether my book will fall on deaf-ears or not, but I see a problem that needs to be fixed. I see people so divided in the alternative media like with Alex Jone's stunt with anti gun protesters (and then blaming Cointelpro), Jeff Rense blowing his fuse with Henry Makow over who caused the "earthquake" in Fukushima — Jeff says it was an earthquake, Henry says it was Mossad, etc, etc. Now the alternative media is ripped apart again, even if they were friends for over a decade, even if they both shouted out from attention to the likes of people like Alex Jones, even though there is more that they agree on than disagree on. Jeff Rense is obviously a recluse who always begs for donations, even if he earns $450,000/year, builds train tracks and has a collection of motor vehicles and I have seen him showing off with riding his quad bike in his garage.¹³⁴ He has about as many marriages as Liz Taylor and is a paranoid, out-of-control-narcissist who thinks anyone who disagrees with him is divisive and troublemaking. I spent days investigating what Henry Makow and Jeff said about it each other and yes Henry is right. Despite their shortcomings, it's a great tragedy that now they are mortal enemies. You might be reading this now and think I have hatred towards Jeff and yet I don't. Find out by starting here:

¹³³ <http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/uk-england-london-17636776> "Metropolitan Police criticized after racism inquiry."

http://www.henrymakow.com/thehiddenjeff_rense.html

Please look at all the highlighted links to get the full story. I've told you in a short, stunted summary but in order to be believed you have to read to if you get my drift. Maybe a little Internet search to verify things (maybe looking at web page caches) if you still cynical.... but there you have it these things that I've just mentioned and all the way through this book, are so typical of our childish "truth movement" (maybe not all of it's true or some things are ignored just like in the mainstream or "lamestream" media!) or alternative media.

CONCLUSION

The kind of media I criticized is like the wild west, and a law unto itself. But in other ways is very informative and intriguing and solves many of life's mysteries. As I conclude, I still feel guilty for talking about most of these people who have I have criticized in this book. I didn't want to write this book, but thought it just had to be written. I mean, after all, there is no organization I can go to about about these issues and the alt. media bias. The thought is laughable. The whole nature of the alternative media is that is something against the dictatorial media which brainwashes such a vast number of mankind. I am in the a similar position. But with me, I've felt that I don't feel apart of any movement, but that doesn't mean I don't have empathy for people regardless of what they are fighting for. They can be whatever "stream" they want... maybe "anystream!"

When it came to the September 11 attacks, it was great that the alternative media exposed it for what it was. The timing was great and no doubt opened the floodgates for listeners and supporters. But it seems like ever since then, the alternative media have used it like scapegoat for everything to be a terrorist attack done by CIA, Mossad or MI5. And this is quite unfortunate and absurd. I'll always wonder myself if they don't talk about terrorists attacks and if they speculate, well who really is responsible then? The alternative media's job is to clear things up and connect the loose ends. Clearly the alt. media has become an oxymoron.

¹³⁴ I don't want to show the picture because I don't want to be seen to be poking fun at people and it's just yet another tragic thing stemming from the community.

I don't know how the people I've mention will take to this. It might create an "Internet storm." It might go "viral." I don't know. Or I'll be ignored and nothing will change. But hopefully there are some will go "Hey! that guy's right!" The Truth Movement, is full of people who were born in the baby boomer era (or just before it) who have a cultural bias against people who are not of their vintage. Name a person whether it be Texe Marrs, Henry Makow or Brother Nathaniel all were born in more prosperous times, times where there were was very little of multiculturalism, where Islam was largely still centered in the Middle East. Truthers that are Generation X are now face these problems front on. I am afraid that although the New World Order is Jewish Utopia (as what Michael Collins would say), we still have to deal with the "lions" that they let out of the cage — militant Islam, huge influx of Chinese, Indians and other minorities who pose a threat to the white race because of the immigration tidal wave. And so we have new problems and deal with it all. We have to deal with the culprits and the problems associated with it.

A lot of people will read this and will think I am mad or angry. I am the latter one — angry. I have every right to be, since white people are always put on the back foot, since that my race is in decline and I don't see anything to stop the tidal wave of immigration. Like any other race, my race has a right to exist. I have a right to express myself — be it on Jews, Muslims or even on hypocritical whites or white traitors. I have a right to expose the abuse of human rights in the name of human rights.

It is good to recognize the truth about world Jewry, but it's also good to discuss the "lions" let out of the cage too. If a Muslim, or a Chinese or even a white traitor came up to me wielding an ax and yelling obscenities at me — you bet I wouldn't be pondering upon such things like "don't worry it's the Jews behind it" and sure as the gulf of fire below, I'd fight back in self defense!

Undoubtedly, there will more anti western anti white haters like David Livingstone in the future who will bring out books, videos and the like. Hate can come from anyone against western civilization — black, Asian and unfortunately white. But this book is to highlight the dangerous views one can have. What hope do we have when people like Henry Makow gives his stamp of approval to books like Terrorism and the Illuminati saying “...a stunning book that casts modern civilization in a new and troubling light.”

One thing we can agree on:

“In the future what's in your fridge is going to be far more important than what is in your garage” -- Alan Jones¹³⁵

RECOMMENDED READING/WEBSITES

- RealCrusadeHistory (youtube channel). A thorough look at the Crusades. This channel will quickly dissolve any myths through Hollywood, who depict the Crusaders as the “bad guys.” An amazing channel.
- PfanderFilms — Jay, a Christian apologist who was born in India, grew up in the US and now resides in the UK who has been in many debates with Muslims at Speakers’ Corner to discuss Islam and the Hadith.
- Be Wise As Serpents — Fritz Springmeier (free PDF book) A most intriguing book that looks at secret societies and who runs them and how deluded and brainwashed we were! He is an ex- Jehovah’s Witnesses and has a lot to say about his former organization he subscribed to when he was younger!
- drdduke — David Duke youtube channel. A civil rights leader for the white race. Exposes Judaism, bankers, and persecution of white Europeans. A man (like me) who strongly beliefs in the right of White Europeans of our own existence and the existence of other races! He also has a website called davidduke.com which discusses many and various issues related to white people, genetics and the historicity of white people in various places in the world. I have not read any of his books, but it would be worthwhile to check out what he has written such as “My Awakening.” Via Bittorent, he has made it available in audio format in spoken word, as a free download. I personally listened to a bit of the first chapter and it’s the man himself who does the audio. [Yes, to hire someone to read a book is very expensive which could cost up minimum $100/page!]
- bikini1212 — Definitely an odd sounding name of a channel (and I think inappropriate because it takes away from the greatness of it), when you consider the information he provides, This Youtube channel gets you thinking of who's really first in the Americas and shows some amazing archeological findings that pertains to the white race! For example, overwhelming evidence suggests that Europeans were the first ones in the Americas. (On a related topic, even Jonathan Coleman¹³⁶ who use to do a music show with Ian Rogerson [on a music station of all places!] made a passing comment of how Tutankhamen was white!¹³⁷

¹³⁵ Talkback radio announcer for 2GB. Friday 2 December 2011. Out of interest, he use to be a speech writer for former Prime Minister John Howard and coached the Rugby Union team, the Wallabies.

¹³⁶ Jewish abstraction.

¹³⁷ This was just a few months before the "Jono and Dano show" was taken off WFSM radio station in 2011. The show outlasted the year.